THE HOWLING snow storm that blasted much of the eastern United States—worst in years in spots—left scores dead in its wake today. Huge drifts marooned thousands of travelers overnight.

The death toll was at least 71. The storm system that swirled into blizzard proportions in the Northeast dumped more than two feet of snow in some sections. Gale force winds whipped the snow into drifts—some 20 feet high.

Many school systems, including those in New York City and Philadelphia, closed today. Business closings were widespread.

About 3,000 travelers spent the night at Kennedy International Airport in New York after all flights were canceled because of drifts on the runways. In Pennsylvania, 250 pupils were marooned overnight at a high school.

Their reaction, as one put it: "Down with snowplows. This is the swiftest party of the year."

Although the snowfall tapered off, winds with gusts up to 60 miles an hour continued and near-zero cold was expected as far south as Tennessee tonight.

The Midwest half of the storm battered Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, leaving thousands snowbound Sunday night and Monday. Drifts were reported 20 feet high in some Ohio areas.

Youngstown, Ohio, with 16 inches, called it the worst snowstorm in 13 years. St. Louis had 8.1 inches, the most in six years.

The southern half of the storm brought Florida its first snow in six years. It melted quickly, but plunging temperatures were the main concern with below-freezing temperatures recorded in central Florida.

The storms converged and their combined punch smacked the Northeast. Washington's nine inches was the heaviest snowfall in nearly six years. Morgantown, W. Va., had 16 inches.

New York City and environs were hit by a foot or more of snow that slowed homebound commuters Monday night. The principal suburban highways on Long Island were virtually impassable for several hours.

Trains were late and some 6,000 to 8,000 commuters doubled and tripled-up in city hotel rooms.

About 300 motorists stranded on and near the Marine Parkway bridge were taken in Army trucks to a nearby base and then given lifts home.

4 Crewmen Missing In Bomber Crash

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—A search started in clear weather today for four Strategic Air Command fliers who are believed to have parachuted from a stricken jet bomber which carried two nuclear weapons.

The pilot of the eight-engine B52 which crashed in a snowstorm Monday staggered through a forest to safety in a farmhouse. He is Maj. Thomas W. McCormick of Yawkey, W. Va.

McCormick said he ordered his crew to jump. Although that was at least 36 hours ago over mountains covered by up to 18 inches of snow and although overnight temperatures were zero and below, an Air Force spokesman expressed optimism about their safety.

He said the men had been thoroughly trained in survival. "They've been trained to stick together," he said.

Maj. Gen. James W. Wilson, director of material for the Strategic Air Command headquarters at Omaha, arrived to take charge of two disaster control teams which will inspect the nuclear weapons for damage.

When assured they have all the components, the men will take the weapons to an Air Force Logistics Command base. The Air Force declined to say how or when the weapons would be transported but emphasized there was no danger of atomic blast or radioactivity.

The plane crashed into a forest on the Appalachian range about 20 miles west of Cumberland.

McCormick was taken in good condition to a Cumberland hospital.

For KMOS-TV Study

Delay TV Antenna Franchise Ruling

A Community Antenna Television System, known as CATV, was discussed by City Council, Monday night, at an "unofficial" meeting. The session was agreed upon a week ago at the regular council meeting after Mayor L. L. Studer announced two and possibly three firms wanted to discuss such a plan with the council. Three firms were represented, the Jefferson Broadcasting Co. of Jefferson City; the United Video Services Inc., of Central Missouri; and the Meredith Broadcasting Co., owners of KCMO-TV, Kansas City.

The television antenna service would be "piped" into homes through coaxial cables. Those who do not elect to take such service, if approved, would have no difficulty with normal television reception due to the installation of the CATV. The service would only assure television owners of a good clear picture without interruption, according to those presenting proposals.

There was no discussion as to what monetary values the city would receive from such a franchise.

After the Meredith Broadcasting Co., and the United Video Services Inc., presented their plans for the project, the Jefferson Broadcasting Co., owners of KRCG-TV at Jefferson City, of which KMOS-TV is an affiliate, requested a 90-day delay so they could complete a survey and make their proposal. It was a general agreement among the council members to grant the delay.

The Meredith firm said they would bring in a clear picture on channels 5, 6, 8, 9 and 13. And indicated their installation fee to the customer would be less than $25.

United Video Services Inc., reported their services would supply channels 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9 and 13 and reported their installation fee would be less than $10 to each customer.

In general, both firms indicated they would be in a position to furnish continuous "background" music, such as that in many business firms, also have services of FM stereo-multiplex and have 24-hour weather services. Facilities for hookups to local schools and public institutions for ETV (Educational Television) programs when these programs are available and add VHF when available at no extra cost.

Both firms indicated the services would be less than $6 per month, after installation, and would be on a month-to-month basis, and for any extra television set in a home which would also use the service an additional $1 per month would be charged the customer.

The Meredith firm is seeking a franchise for 15 years, while United Video asks for a 25-year franchise.

United Video representatives stated they had installed such CATV in Falls City, Neb., in 1952 with 10 channels and another in Columbus, Neb., on March 15.

They have installations scheduled at Maryville, Chillicothe, Boonville and Marshall, in which towns the representatives say

Break Ground For Shopping Center Here

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the Thompson Hills shopping center, to be constructed on the south side of West Highway 50 immediately west of Thompson Blvd., were held at noon today.

Details of the project were being explained at a luncheon meeting this afternoon at the Hotel by Sydney Jacobs, representative of Investors Associates, St. Louis, and E. W. Thompson, Sedalia, a principal stockholder in the project.

Representatives of firms that have signed leases for space in the new shopping center attended the groundbreaking ceremonies and were at the luncheon meeting. Names of the firms represented were not available as The Democrat went to press this afternoon.

Jacobs told The Democrat earlier that one of the leasees' representatives attending the meeting had signed a contract for the largest amount of space to be available in the shopping center. Jacobs also said the space is for a department store and will be the largest in Sedalia.

The Weather

Fair and warmer tonight and Wednesday; low tonight 15-20; high Wednesday 35-43.

The temperature Tuesday was 10 at 7 a.m., and 29 at noon. Low Monday night was 5.

The temperature one year ago today was, high 23, low 3; two years ago, high 38, low 33; three years ago, high 51, low 37.

Lake of Ozark stage: 51.9 feet; 8.1 below full reservoir; no change.

'Identified' Suspect In San Quentin

The Sedalia Police Department's prime suspect in the Friday night armed robbery of Kroger's Supermarket, 1705 West Broadway, is apparently in the clear and a Pettis County warrant for the man's arrest has been withdrawn from Magistrate Court.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax said Tuesday morning that his investigation in regard to the suspect's whereabouts had revealed the man identified from "mug shot" photographs as the robber is a prisoner at San Quentin federal prison in San Francisco, Calif. The sheriff said he had talked by telephone to the prison warden at San Quentin and was informed this particular subject had been confined at the prison since December, 1962, on a violation of parole.

Warrant for the arrest of the suspect was obtained Monday after investigation over the weekend by Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin. The warrant was issued on the identification of Paul Bahner, 24, 1907 Liberty Park Blvd., who Chief Hamlin took to Kansas City Saturday to view photographs of known armed robbers.

The Pettis County warrant was withdrawn Tuesday morning and authorities are continuing their investigation.

Seeks Re-Election

CLINTON, Mo. (AP)—State Senator William J. Cason, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, said Monday he will seek re-election to the Senate post.

The 38-year-old Cason is completing his first term,

Moves To Break Deadlock On Canal Zone Settlement

Panama Reveals Intent To Sever US Relations

PANAMA (AP)—The Inter-American Peace Commission launched efforts today to break a deadlock between Panama and the United States on the proceedings for a settlement of the Canal Zone crisis.

The five-member commission met in closed session with Edwin M. Martin, chief negotiator for the United States, and Panama Foreign Minister Galileo Solis amid reports Panama has demanded the withdrawal of U.S. diplomats.

Castro-Like Rebel Force In Zanzibar

Americans Arrive Aboard Destroyer From Island Area

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—The first U.S. refugees from turbulent Zanzibar reported today that Spanish-speaking men in Castro-like uniforms appeared to be the hard core of African rebels who overthrew the island's Arab government.

The Americans arrived aboard the U.S. destroyer Manley. The state Department had ordered the removal of all but two of the 63 Americans on Zanzibar because bands of Africans were roaming streets, shooting and looting.

Stuart Lillico, public affairs officer of the U.S. Embassy in Zanzibar, told reporters here that a Cuban-looking type was the leader of the rebels who captured the cable and wireless company's office. He said the man understood English but replied in Spanish and spoke no Swahili, the most common language of Zanzibar.

The latest casualties reported are six dead and more than 2,000 wounded. But this is expected to grow.

No Rush By Congress On Tobacco Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal report on smoking is not likely to rush Congress into action on bills dealing with cigarettes. No one else seems to be in a rush either.

The federal report issued Saturday branded cigarettes a health hazard and called for corrective action.

Four bills on cigarettes are now before the House Commerce Committee. The oldest has been there almost a year. The newest, almost a month.

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., the chairman of this powerful committee, said in an interview, "I have made no decision about them and have not scheduled any hearings."

Harris is known in Congress as a man who measures his words so not to rule out the possibility of being taken to mean that headlines about the Public Health Service report on smoking hazards are not going to rush him into quick hearings. But his words do not rule out the possibility of hearings sometime this year.

MoPac Given Permits To Close Stations

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri Pacific Railroad today received state permission to close its freight stations at Woodbridge, in Cooper County, and at Hurley in Stone County.

The closings will save the railroad annually between $5,000 and $6,000 each besides eliminating losses. Missouri Pacific figured it lost $4,800 in operating the Woodbridge station last year and about $1,300 in operating the Hurley station.

Woodbridge is 15 miles east of Boonville on the Missouri River route and any Woodbridge freight can be handled by the Boonville agent.

Hurley is six miles north of Crane on a branch of the road that runs between Carthage and Springfield. Any freight in or out of Hurley can be handled by the Crane agent.

Collides With Big Truck

Ivan Harsch Dies In Highway Crash

Ivan Lueshen Harsch, 36, Route 1, Smithton, was instantly killed about 11:50 o'clock Monday night in a collision between his pickup truck and a tractor-trailer unit about one-fourth mile west of Ottaville on Highway 50. His death was the first traffic fatality in Cooper County for 1964.

Elmer E. Koons, 44, of 3102 East 66th Street Terrace, North Kansas City, driver of the tractor, complained of an injury to his right knee. He was taken to Bothwell Hospital but was not treated and was released.

Trooper Thomas Huffman, of the State Highway Patrol from California, investigated the accident and reported the tractor-trailer belonging to the Interstate Motor Freight System, was headed east on the highway and the 1963 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Harsch was headed west.

Trooper Huffman said the tractor-trailer was apparently struck nearly head-on by the west bound pickup truck. The driver of the tractor-trailer attempted to leave the road to avoid the accident and after the vehicles collided the tractor and trailer slid crossways on the highway blocking traffic for more than 2 1/2 hours.

A statement given by Donald

H. Sordahl, a supervisor for The Boeing Company, supported that given by Koons, according to Trooper Huffman. Sordahl, who resides at Missile Manor in a trailer, E-6 Apollo, was reported to be driving west on the highway and was behind the pickup truck.

As soon as he saw the crash he immediately radioed The

$3.4 Billion Foreign Aid Plan By LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has told congressional leaders he plans to earmark $3.4 billion for foreign aid spending in the new $97.9 billion budget he will submit next week.

The figure, confirmed by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, would represent a modest $269 million cut under the actual amount available to the Agency for International Development in the current year ending next July 1.

Such a reduction seemed likely to prove disappointing to many members of Congress who have been insisting that steps be taken toward bringing the program to an end.

A presidential committee reviewing overseas assistance is expected to recommend sweeping changes in the AID setup as a result of growing congressional reluctance to vote funds for the program.

Without professing to know any details of these recommendations, Mansfield called in an interview for a division of responsibility among the non-Communist powers that would permit the United States to concentrate economic assistance in Latin America.

He said Britain, France and West Germany should be charged with providing necessary economic and military help to fledgling nations in Africa. He suggested that the responsibility for economic aid to Asia be shared with Commonwealth nations in that area.

"Latin America is the most important area to us," Mansfield said. "The crisis in Panama has pointed up the necessity for further implementation of the Alliance for Progress. We should give our assistance primarily to nations in this hemisphere."

The Montana senator, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, proposed that military assistance be placed under the Defense Department. Because of commitments in South Viet Nam, Korea and elsewhere, he said he doubts that the current year's total of $1.15 billion in military aid can be reduced much.

State Liquor Charge Against Alberta Venable

A state liquor control citation for keeping a disorderly house has been drawn up against Miss Alberta Venable, proprietor of the Wanderer Inn at Second and Lamine, according to Harold Junge, Cole Camp, a liquor control agent.

Junge said, however, that a hearing date on the citation has not yet been set. When scheduled the hearing will be held in Jefferson City in the department of State Liquor Control, Hollis Ketchum, supervisor.

The tavern was the scene early New Year's morning of a shooting incident in which Freddie Lea, 28, a bartender at the establishment, allegedly shot and wounded Ralph Naylor, 24, 1006 West 10th. Lea has been bound over for Circuit Court trial on a charge of felonious assault without malice in the case and is at liberty on $1,000 bond.

If the state substantiates its disorderly house charge, the liquor control agency may suspend or revoke the tavern's license.

Mayor L. L. Studer sought to have the city liquor license for the place suspended for 20 days, but the City Council voted 5-0 against the suspension on Jan. 6 with two councilmen abstaining. Criticism of the tavern also came from Judge Frank Armstrong who presided at the Magistrate Court preliminary hearing for Freddie Lea.

Bob Kennedy On Mission For Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy leaves today on a trouble-shooting mission for President Johnson—a meeting with Indonesian President Sukarno on the Malaysian situation.

The White House said Monday that Kennedy probably will see Sukarno Thursday in Tokyo where the Indonesian leader will be vacationing. Details were to be announced after Kennedy conferred with Johnson this morning.

Assistant White House press secretary Andrew Hatcher said Monday that Kennedy would be discussing with Sukarno the Malaysian situation.

Sukarno has publicly and repeatedly vowed his intention to crush "neo-colonialism" in Malaysia—meaning British support of the newly formed state.

Only last week Johnson sent Sukarno a message. It is believed to have dealt with U.S. concern over the rising frequency of border incidents in North Borneo, a Malaysian state which borders Indonesia.

Another possible topic in the Kennedy-Sukarno talks is a provision in the new foreign aid bill. It would prohibit U.S. assistance to Indonesia unless Johnson makes a positive finding that it is in the best interests of the United States.

Timely Speech Topic

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association canceled its meeting to be held Monday in conjunction with the state farm show here. Heavy snow forced the cancellation.

The principal speaker was Charles L. Hosler of Penn State University. His topic—"Predicting the Weather."

Minuteman Is Topic At Rotary Meet

The first Minuteman missile to arrive at Whiteman is expected Wednesday, according to Col. Patterson, deputy commander of the Site Activation Task Force (SATF) for the missile program.

The colonel, speaking before the Sedalia Rotary Club at its noon luncheon meeting Monday, told members of progress on the project. Earlier it had been announced that the first missile would arrive Tuesday.

Col. Ruark, SATF commander, was scheduled to speak but was called out of town unexpectedly. Col. Patterson was assisted by Major Ray Jones in showing slides on the project.

The colonel revealed that a new railroad missile unloading facility is in construction at the base to handle incoming missiles. Up to now, it was anticipated that all the Minutemen would arrive by air. Patterson said they would arrive by both rail and air as soon as the rail facilities are completed.

He also revealed that the base's munitions facilities were able to handle the warheads for the missiles with little modification.

On the cable work, being handled by the ITT Kellogg Co., Patterson said cable work for three flights of the 15 that comprise the missile complex has been accepted, but that pressure problems were plaguing the contractors in some areas. The cable is pressurized to keep out moisture.

Although the activation date of the area complex is classified, Patterson said the project should be completed by year's end as programmed.

One problem that has developed on one of the final phases of work concerns the environmental control system. This problem developed with the snowfall. Col. Patterson said the compressors were sucking snow into the facilities. This phase of the work is being handled by the Carrier Corp. with its offices in Sedalia. The firm employs 180 persons.

The speaker was introduced by Rotarian Bob Severide, base manager for The Boeing Company. January program chairman Bill Finley introduced Severide.

C. Omer West, vice president, presided in the absence of President Harry Walsh.

Rotarian Bob Johnson gave a report on the Football Recognition Banquet scheduled Wednesday, Jan. 22, at Smith-Cotton cafeteria, and urged Rotarians to participate. Tickets were made available by Johnson.

Guests introduced by Oscar DeWolf were both student guests, Terry Daugherty and Leon Hall, Jr.

Songs were led by Aubrey Case with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano. Invocation was by Bud Brown.

Gazette-Kessinger Vows are Said

Miss Sandra Lee Gazette, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Mr. Gary Wayne Kessinger, U. S. Navy, were united in marriage at noon Dec. 27 in the Grace Chapel Parish, Jacksonville. The Rev. George Murphy officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. D. Gazette, Jacksonville, and the late Mr. Gazette. The bridegroom's parents are Sgt. and Mrs. F. R. Kessinger, Whiteman Air Force Base.

Given in marriage by Franklin Williford, her godfather, the bride wore a white floor length gown of taffeta and Chantilly lace poised over layers of net with a fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline, calla lily sleeves and voluminous skirt forming a circular chapel train. Her bouffant veil of illusion was secured to a headpiece of silk roses. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and orchids.

Miss Suzanne Harper, Jacksonville, was maid of honor. She wore a floor length sheath of pink faille with a rounded neckline, elbow-length sleeves and skirt featuring a wattle back. She wore a matching flower headpiece.

Mr. Leslie Diebel, shipmate of the bridegroom, was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother following the ceremony, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Missouri. They visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Josh Stuckey in Springfield who honored them at a reception. They are guests of his parents at Whiteman and plan to return to Jacksonville this weekend, where he is stationed aboard a ship.

Mr. Kessinger resided here with his parents a number of years, graduating from the Knob Noster High School with the class of 1962.

Senator Not Able To Campaign Now

LOS ANGELES (AP) — State Democratic Chairman Eugene Wyman says that as of now, U.S. Sen. Clair Engle "is not in any condition to campaign."

Wyman returned to Los Angeles Sunday with Tom Carvey Jr., president of the California Democratic Council, after meeting with Engle.

The senator "looked good, but he has difficulty in his ability to speak, he's very hesitant," Wyman said.

Engle underwent brain surgery in August. He recently announced he will seek re-election in November.

Tax Therapy for Medical Costs

By CHARLES W. SCHOENEMAN

Written for

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

(Third of 10 Articles)

Sixty-five is an important age for income tax payers, for that is the dividing line for some very different rules on allowable medical care deductions.

Naturally, you must itemize all deductions on Page 2 of your return if you are to gain the benefits of the medical ones.

If neither you nor your wife were 65 before the end of 1963, you may deduct:

• Medical care expenses (including health insurance premiums) of yourself, wife (or husband) and other dependents to the extent these expenses exceeded 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

• All medical expenses of any father, mother, father-in-law or mother-in-law who was 65 or over before the end of 1963 and qualified as your dependent.

If either you or your wife (or husband) were 65 or over during 1963, then you deduct all medical care expenses for both of you without subtracting 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

There is, however, a yearly limit on the total amount you can deduct. Roughly speaking, this is $5,000 multiplied by the number of exemptions you claim—excluding the additional exemptions for old age or blindness.

Persons under 65 are further limited: for example, if you file a joint return you are limited to $20,000 in deductions for medical care.

What is meant by the expenses of medical care? The law says it means amounts paid for the "diagnosis, care, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body." It also means any amounts paid for accident or health insurance and for any transportation primarily for and essential to medical care. To the extent health insurance compensates for loss of earnings, premiums are not deductible.

Not every expenditure prescribed by a physician is deductible. Not every expense for physical comfort is deductible. Personal, living and family expenses are not deductible. As the Tax Court said in one case:

"It is not at all unusual for doctors to recommend to a patient a course of personal conduct and personal activity which, if pursued, will result in health benefits to the patient, but the expenses therefore are generally to be considered ordinary personal expenses."

However, if an individual is in a home for the aged because he or she requires medical or nursing care, and the availability of such care is the principal reason for being there, then the entire cost of meals, lodging and medical care would be in the category of deductible medical care.

Medicine and drugs generally qualify as deductible medical expenses, but you can only deduct them to the extent the amounts spent for them exceed one per cent of your adjusted gross income. (Congress is proposing that this one per cent floor be removed for medicines and drugs where either a taxpayer, spouse or dependent is 65 or over. However, for these expenses during 1963, there is no exception for 65 or over persons.)

Computation of Medical Expenses

Taxpayer and wife both under 65. Their adjusted gross income on line 9 is $7,200. During 1963 they paid doctor's bills of $250, dentist bills of $100, and medical insurance premiums of $150. They also spent $50 for medicine. They may claim medical expense deductions — of $284. How?

Medicine and drugs (total not in excess of 1% of $7,200, or $72)	$ 0
Doctors	250
Dentist	100
Medical Insurance	150

Total Medical Expenses . . . $500
Amount not Deductible . . . 216
(3% of $7,200)

Medical Expense Deduction $284
You can obtain Form 2948 from your IRS office to aid you in making your computation.

Chases Stolen Train

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The chase began at Harvard Square where signal lights flashed on the control board at 3:43 a.m. Sunday.

Trains normally do not operate at that hour, so starter Thomas X. Lind ran to the platform to investigate. He saw a two-car train pull out toward Boston.

Lind jumped to the controls of another train and was off in pursuit. Through Harvard Square, across the West Boston Bridge spanning the Charles River and into the Charles Street Station.

There, two men leaped off the runaway and disappeared. Lind didn't get his men but he recovered the train.

How to be smarter than your wife (on the subject of Savings Bonds)

Of course, there's no question about who's smarter at your house on most subjects. But to remove any doubt as to who knows more about U. S. Savings Bonds, the Treasury Department presents this little quiz. You take it first so you'll know all the answers and then pop it on your spouse. Great for the morale.

1. A Series E Savings Bond reaches maturity in:
  - ☐ 5 years ☐ 7 1/2 years ☐ 10 years
2. The money you earn from Savings Bonds is exempt from state and local income taxes.
  - ☐ true ☐ false
3. You have to be an American to buy U. S. Savings Bonds.
  - ☐ true ☐ false
4. Americans owned more Savings Bonds in:
  - ☐ 1943 ☐ 1953 ☐ 1963
5. Uncle Sam will give you a new Bond free if:
  - ☐ You accidentally toss it in the washing machine
  - ☐ The neighbor's dog swallows it whole
  - ☐ A thief steals it
6. It's hard to redeem a Savings Bond.
  - ☐ true ☐ false

7. A Bond that costs $18.75 will:
  - ☐ Grow to $25 and stop
  - ☐ Keep on growing if you don't cash it in
8. You can have somebody else buy your Bonds for you.
  - ☐ true ☐ false

ANSWERS

1. 7 1/2 years is correct.
2. True. What's more, federal tax on E Bond interest may be deferred until the Bond is redeemed.
3. Generally speaking, true. You must be either a resident; a citizen living abroad; or an employee of the U.S., military or civilian.
4. In spite of the fact that Bond-buying was nearly universal during the war years, the correct answer is 1963.
5. You're right no matter which answer you checked.
6. False. Any bank will redeem your E Bond anytime after the two-months' holding period.
7. A Series E Bond will keep growing for 10 years past maturity. Extension is automatic.
8. True. A perfect example is the Payroll Savings Plan. You can buy Bonds for other people, too. In fact, they make excellent gifts.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: In your book, "Teen-Agers and Sex," you suggest that young girls should scrub floors, wash dishes and do other household chores to take their minds off boys. It's your theory that they can work off excess energy by "helping mother."

A few weeks ago I heard a psychologist lecture on the motivation for teenage marriages. He said most teen-age marriages are caused by mothers who impose household chores on their daughters. He said it is permissible for a mother to ask her daughter to help on the maid's day out, but the teen-age girl who must repeatedly perform a mother's job finally says, "Well, if I can do it for her I can do it for myself."

The result is a speedy marriage, a fast pregnancy and a quick divorce. What do you have to say now, Ann Landers?—POINT OF CLARITY.

Dear Point: You didn't hear correctly or you misunderstood the speaker.

No psychologist would assume that a maid is built in to the average family household. This is absurd.

And no psychologist would discourage children from helping around the house since this is how children develop a sense of responsibility.

The mother who is domineering may find herself with a rebellious daughter who runs off to escape her mother's demands. But children who are taught early to pitch in and not merely serve as ornaments grow up to be self-respecting, responsible individuals. And they are not likely to elope at 17 if they are asked to vacuum the living room rug.

Dear Ann Landers: A friend of mine is an extremely attractive brunette. She was born and raised in Europe but has spent the last 10 years in the United States.

This woman has beautiful taste in clothes, a lovely figure, is well-groomed in every respect, one. She has more hair on her legs than my husband has on his.

I've heard several people make unkind comments about this and it makes me guilty because I haven't the nerve to tell her to do something about it.

If you say "Go ahead" I will. What's your advice?—FRAIDY CAT.

Dear Fraidy: You didn't say your friend was blind so I assume her vision is all right. Surely she has observed the difference between her legs and those of her friends. Apparently what is considered an essential part of good grooming to most women does not matter to her.

Each of us is responsible for two legs—our own. So Fraidy, keep quiet.

Dear Ann Landers: I went steady with Sylvester for almost two years. We were engaged seven months ago. The understanding was that I would marry him if he would stop drinking.

Well, he hasn't stopped. All that has changed is that he comes to the house smelling of candy mints, mouth wash—anything he can think of to try to fool me.

I told Sylvester Sunday that our engagement is off. His only comment was "Give me back the ring."

I said I wanted to keep the ring because I had earned it. He answered, "When a girl breaks the engagement she is supposed to return the ring."

The engagement is off because of HIM. He didn't keep his promise about drinking, so therefore I should keep the ring. Right?—ENTITLED.

Dear Entitled—which you are not: You broke the engagement because Sylvester failed to live up to his promise. Return the ring and consider yourself lucky to have unwound from the situation. It had all the ingredients for trouble.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MFA Bulk Men Choose Year's Advisory Board

Manager John Hinck reports 250 persons attended the MFA Oil Company annual bulk plant meeting in Sweet Springs at the high school Jan. 8.

Chairman of the meeting was F. C. Dohrman, Sweet Springs. Delegates elected to serve the bulk plant for the coming year as an advisory board are:

Dohrman, Martin Fuehring, Raymond Sims, Harold Vogelsmeier, Sweet Springs; Irvin Heaper, Lester Vogelsmeier, of Concordia; Dale Norfleet, Houstonia; Wilbert Schelp, Emma.

It was reported sales for the entire company increased by more than $3,500,000 over last year and more than 76,000,000 gallons of oil products were handled by the Company. There are now 100 MFA bulk oil plants in Missouri with 130 tank trucks delivering to farmers. L. R. Robertson, Warrensburg, district sales manager for the area, reported this was the 34th consecutive year since the founding of the MFA Oil Company in 1929 that there was an increase in volume.

Don Weems, manager of the LP Division and John Jackson, technical advisor, also attended. Both are of the main office in Columbia.

Lake Creek Ho'makers Meet at Acklin Home

Lake Creek Homemakers met Jan. 7 at the home of Mrs. Harvey Acklin. Mrs. Melvin Schnakenberg, president, opened the meeting and roll call was answered by 11 members.

Mrs. Schnakenberg led group singing of "Let There Be Peace on Earth."

Each member told or demonstrated something she had learned from previous lessons. Mrs. Acklin was elected song leader.

A game was played and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. George Dorweiler will be February hostess at the home of Mrs. Oelrichs.

16 Saline Farmers Win Corn Contest

Sixteen Saline county farmers averaged more than 150 bushels an acre in the 15th annual state-wide corn growing contest sponsored by the Missouri Farmers Association. They were honored along with 11 other contestants—all of whom beat 100 bushels an acre—at a dinner at McKay's Wings Cafe in Marshall Monday (Jan. 13) night. The government estimate for the average yield for all corn in Saline county this year is 73.1 bushels an acre.

The county's corn growing champion is John Willibrand who averaged 205.7 bushels an acre. His field is located in the Missouri River bottom near Glasgow. He had a population of 23,100 stalks to the acre and the variety was 2120. It was planted on April 25th. Willibrand plowed down 100 pounds of anhydrous ammonia. The 10 acre field was hoed once and cultivated twice. He used Aldrin granules for a soil insecticide and sprayed with 2,4-D to control weeds after the last cultivation. He explained that it was dry during the growing season and added "I don't think this corn received 5 inches of moisture."

Emerson J. Kiso, Route 2, Slater, had the second place field. He averaged 195.09 bushels an acre and had a stalk count of 20,567 per acre. He used Aldrin for a soil insecticide and 2,4-D for a herbicide. The variety was 2120 and he plowed down 300 pounds of 0-13-39 fertilizer per acre. In addition he put 150 pounds of 8-22-11 per acre in the row for a starter fertilizer. Later he side dressed the crop with 100 pounds of anhydrous ammonia per acre. It was planted on May 15th.

S. H. Miller, Route 4, Marshall, had the third place yield with an average of 192.37 bushels an acre. It was planted on May 3rd and he had 25,800 stalks to the acre. The variety was 3232. He used Aldrin for a soil insecticide and sprayed with 2,4-D on June 2nd. He plowed down 200 pounds of 0-0-60 and 300 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre.

Other contestants and their average yield per acre are: Richard Bossaller, Gilliam, 185.47 bushels; Wilbert Borgman & sons, Slater, 184.95; David Turner, Miami, RR 2, 184.45; Morris & Dale Strodtman, Slater, RR 2, 170.43; Guthrie Brothers, Marshall, RFD 4, 167.94; Norbert Sellmeyer, Gilliam, 163.26; Ken & Ralph Strodtman, Armstrong, 162.95; J. D. Turner, Miami, Route 2, 162.93; Mr. H. G. Bucksath, Jr., Slater, RR 2, 160.46; Bill Lewellen, Slater, RR 3, 157.70; Nelson Davis, Napton, RR 1, 154.46; J. G. Buck, Marshall, RR 2, 151.31; Charles F. Buck, Marshall, RR 2, 147.24; Robert Knipmeyer, Saline County, 146.89; Ray Guthrie, Marshall, RR 4, 140.46; Warren F. Hillebrenner, Sweet Springs, RR 2, 131.91; Donald Ray Chevalier, Miami, Route 1, 131.19; Roy Clough, Marshall, RR 1, 128.42; Charles W. Marsh, Marshall, RR 4, 124.83; Hubert L. Schilb, Marshall, RR 2, 122.59; Arthur Sellmeyer, Gilliam, 119.14; C. R. Clough, Napton, RR 1, 116.31.

MISS NINA K. SLATER, beloved teacher and principal of Prospect School and later Mark Twain School, for many years, observed her 92nd birthday on Dec. 12, at her home in Cedar Springs, Mich., where she went to live after her retirement. One of her most welcome visitors on her birthday was Isaac Walbrink, who is pictured with her, and was one of her first pupils. He was 86 years old on June 3, 1963. Miss Slater was born in Michigan and 75 years ago, at the age of 17, taught Isaac Walbrink, who was then 12 years old, at the Bretherton School near Allendale, Mich.

When she was 18 she left Michigan and went to Springfield, Mo., where she completed her education in Missouri colleges, and taught in Springfield and Cape Girardeau. Then she came to Sedalia where she was on the faculty of public schools for 50 years. When her years in the education profession came to a close Miss Slater returned to Michigan where two nieces, Mrs. Ruth B. Felgate and Miss Nina E. Babcock and a nephew, E. G. Babcock, live. They are all former Sedalians, the children of the late Mayor Judd L. and Mrs. Babcock.

Lindsey Circle Meets At Calvary Church

Lindsey Circle, Calvary Baptist Church, met at the church on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Claude Cooper presided.

"America" was sung by the group. The program, "Citizen of Two Worlds," was given by all members.

Irvin Heaper, Concordia, 114.10.

Rules of the competition required that each contest field be 5 acres or larger and all yields adjusted to 15 per cent moisture. A total of 448 farmers in all sections of Missouri participated in the contest. The state champion is George Kimmons of Ozark in Christian county with an average of 286.9 bushels an acre.

Happy With Seclusion

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A Dallas official of the American Civil Liberties union says his group will continue efforts to talk to Mrs. Marina Oswald, although she stated in a letter she is satisfied with her seclusion and Secret Service protection.

Greg Olds, president of the Dallas chapter of the ACLU, said his group wants to interview the widow of President Kennedy's accused assassin "to see that her rights are being observed."

Misbranding Charges On Citrus Juice Firm

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Four officials of Cal-Tex Citrus Juice Inc. of Houston were re-indicted Monday on six charges of shipping a misbranded and adulterated orange juice product in interstate commerce.

A federal grand jury again indicted Gordon Van Liew of Houston, president of the firm; his brother, Del Van Liew of Hidalgo, Tex., vice president; Arthur R. Becker of Houston, secretary-treasurer; and Verne G. Madison of Columbia, Mo., manager of a related company.

Delay

they have 25-year franchises. If granted a franchise in Sedalia they would require an 18-month period for construction. The firm also said if a franchise is granted by Sedalia they would make Sedalia the "hub" of their operation, headquarters and bringing into Sedalia at least six new families. The representatives indicated that the costs of the project would be between $350,000 and $400,000.

Representing the Meredith firm was Fred F. Wesner, local attorney; Jim Frost, assistant to the vice president, and two other officials Richard Evans and Glenn Flynn.

For the United Video Services Inc., James Durely and William F. Brown, local attorneys along with the president of the firm Morris Hoffman and Alex Shinderman, vice president, were the representatives.

For the Jefferson Broadcasting Co., Henry Andre, Jefferson City attorney; Bob Blosser, operation manager of KRCG-TV and Gary Pasley, operations manager of KMOZ-TV, Sedalia. They told the council how KMOZ, previously known as KDRO-TV had pioneered television in Sedalia and Central Missouri, and they desired more time to figure a plan for such service to their customers in the area and asked for the 90-day delay.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. was also interested and had Tom Carney present. Carney told the council the telephone company was neutral in the situation and was merely represented to let it be known the telephone company services will be available.

The body is at the Scrivner-Stevenson Funeral Home, Stover.

Circuit Court

A jury trial on a damage petition against the Sedalia Yellow Cab Company and Merle Allcorn, of Sedalia, opened Tuesday morning in Circuit Court before Judge Frank W. Hayes.

Mrs. Dorothy Williams, 29, formerly of 1703 South Stewart in Sedalia and now of Rhode Island, is the plaintiff in the action. She alleged in a petition filed Oct. 17, 1962, in Circuit Court that she was injured while a passenger in a Yellow Cab which was involved in a collision with an auto driven by Mr. Allcorn. The accident occurred Sept. 8, 1962, at the intersection of 12th and New York and Mrs. Williams, in her original petition, sought $60,000 damages.

The intersection is not controlled by traffic signs and the taxicab in which Mrs. Williams was a passenger was northbound on New York while the auto driven by Allcorn was westbound on 12th. Bennie Hatfield was the driver of the taxicab.

Mrs. Williams, who left Sedalia recently with her husband who is now stationed at Rhode Island, was the first witness to testify.

Jurors hearing the case are J. O. Latimer, Jr., E. B. Cook, Mrs. Mildred Momborg, B. E. Heacock, Mrs. Roy Raines, A. B. Cleveger, George Tittsworth, John T. Harris, Lawson Smith, Larry Walk, John Morarity and John Curry.

Lamm, Barnett, Crawford and Barnes are attorneys for Mrs. Williams. The defendants are represented by Wesner, Wesner and Meyer and Durely and Keating.

Mary Jane Hayes filed a petition in Circuit Court Monday seeking a divorce from Frank W. Hayes, SP. Thomas T. Keating is attorney for the plaintiff.

Accidents

Florence Ellen Hunt, 60, of Route 1, complained of a neck injury and went to Bothwell Hospital for examination following a two-car mishap at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday about four miles south of Sedalia on Highway 65 near the Whispering Oaks addition.

Highway Patrol Trooper Pete Stohr, who investigated, reported the northbound Hunt auto, a 1960 Dodge, started to pass a slow moving truck, Mrs. Hunt saw a yellow line in the highway ahead and pulled back into the original lane of traffic where her car was hit in the rear by another northbound auto.

Driver of the second car, a 1960 Ford, was John Edward Mein, 33, Route 1, Cole Camp, the trooper reported.

A car and a truck were involved in an accident at 3:40 p.m. Monday at 16th and Limit.

Involved were a 1956 Chevrolet, driven west on 16th by Barbara Kay Craig, 19, 201 East Broadway, and a 1960 International two and one-half ton truck, driven west on 16th by Arthur L. West, 38, Moberly.

The left front and door of the Chevrolet were damaged. The truck sustained no damage.

Police received a report at 1:10 p.m. Monday of a hit-and-run accident at 1108½ South Ohio.

Involved was a 1961 Ford, parked and owned by Arsene Cote, Montgomery Ala.

The left front door of the Ford was damaged.

The 1500 block on south Grand was the scene of a two car accident at 7:32 p.m. Monday.

Involved were a 1957 Chevrolet, driven north on Grand by Jerry M. Riedel, 17, 1504 South Grand, and a 1957 Plymouth, also driven north on Grand by Ray D. Rieder, 25, 1830 South Carr.

The left rear fender and rear bumper of the Chevrolet and the front bumper of the Plymouth were damaged.

Police Reports

Leonard Lobaugh, 311 East 11th, reported to police Monday that the spare wheel and a near new tire and steel tool box containing about $30 worth of socket and other wrenches were taken out of the trunk of his car while it was parked in the garage at that address Sunday night. The wheel and tire were valued at $30.

Mike Riley, Route 3, reported to police Monday the loss of his billfold Sunday.

Fires In City

Sedalia firemen found themselves faced Tuesday morning with two widely spread fires within 14 minutes of each other.

The first alarm came at 10:56 a.m. to the Byron Pilcher residence on the north side of the street in the 1700 block of East 16th where a separate two-car garage was ablaze.

Firemen had two trucks on hand battling the garage fire when at 11:10 a.m. the second alarm was turned in reporting a blaze at 615 West Fourth.

Assistant Fire Chief George Smethers and firemen boarded pumper truck No. 1 at the East 16th Street blaze and sped across town to the Fourth Street address where the fire was found confined to the rear of the home.

The other fire truck unit remained at the Pilcher address, laying a hose line to a nearby hydrant to combat the flames.

Firemen raised a ladder to the second story at the rear of the home on Fourth Street and chopped a hole in the exterior wall to get a hose line to the fire.

Damage at both fires proved extensive, but fire officials had not yet completed damage estimates at Democrat press time. The Pilcher garage fire cut a gaping hole in the roof before firemen could control the blaze.

The Sedalia Fire Department was called to 109 East Second at 2:51 p.m. Monday where burning trash had ignited a window sill and fire had spread to an inside wall. Slight damage resulted.

A call at 3:17 p.m. Monday sent Sedalia firemen to 903 South Kentucky. Upon arrival and after making an investigation, no fire was found.

Actor's Face Familiar; But Not the Name

NEW YORK (AP)—On a biting winter's day, actor John Anderson stood outside a mid-Manhattan restaurant, waiting for a friend.

In his pale yellow sport shirt, horse-blanket plaid coat and hat of golden tan, Anderson did look a lot like a visiting California actor—which he was—but that did not explain the second and third looks he was drawing from passersby.

Occasionally, a braver soul would approach the actor:

"I know your face," was a typical remark, "and I've seen you a thousand times on television. But I can't place your name."

"And that," explained Anderson soberly a few minutes later, "is why I'm in New York. I want to place the name."

Anderson, a member of the 1955 Broadway cast of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," went on the road with the show and arrived in Hollywood for a five-week run. He has been there since and — most remarkable for a free-lance actor—he has worked steadily.

Directors took a look at his craggy features and decided he was great for character parts. His lean, tall frame made him a natural for Westerns.

"I figure that I've done about 190 television roles now," Anderson said. "I've played in everything from 'Twilight Zone' and 'The Outer Limits' to 'Bonanza' and 'Rawhide.'"

"I estimate I've been the heavy about 70 per cent of the time and a good guy about 30 per cent. I think about half of my parts have been in Westerns."

"But the problem now isn't work, it's that so few people can identify me although my face is so familiar. One of the reasons I've come back to New York is to look for a chance to appear on some of the New York-made shows, like 'The Defenders' and 'East Side, West.' Or in a play."

Anderson, a quiet-voiced man of considerable culture and humor, says wryly that his great television specialty has been playing what he calls "dirty old men" roles.

One of his first television assignments, in fact, was the part of a filthy, repulsive, buffalo hunter in an early episode of "Gunsmoke."

The program, even in those free-wheeling days before the fierce outcry against TV violence, was one which shocked many a viewer with its unadulterated brutality.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — I quit smoking nine years ago.

It was very simple. I just got mad. Not at the cigarettes, or the pipe or the occasional cigars. It was my doctor.

For 30 years I had been smoking. I coughed a lot. And since I'm skinny some people gave me knowing looks and told me I wouldn't last long unless I quit smoking. I went on smoking.

Verdict Effort In Slaying Of Policeman

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—A district court jury was trying again today to reach a verdict in the trial of Vernon Gee, accused of slaying a policeman.

The jury deliberated three hours and 12 minutes Monday night before Judge William J. Burns called an overnight recess.

The jury indicated it was having trouble interpreting the definition of first degree murder under Kansas law.

The case involves the shooting of Sgt. Harry Hedrick on Aug. 5. Hedrick was shot in the head as he and another officer stopped their patrol car to question Gee.

Gee was wounded by another officer and captured immediately at the scene.

The state asked for the death penalty.

Gee's attorney based the defense on extreme intoxication, claiming Gee was so drunk he didn't know what he was doing.

Universal Studio Not 'The Same'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It sure doesn't look the same," said Shelley Winters as she returned to her old stomping grounds, Universal Studios.

It sure doesn't. The old lot has come a distance from the days when Shelley was starring there in such epics as "South Sea Sinner" and "Saskatchewan."

But then, Shelley isn't the same as the girl that Universal strove vainly to make into a sex image. She has struggled successfully to establish herself as an actress—her Oscar in 1959 didn't hurt. The result is that she is one of the busiest players in the business.

Shelley just returned from film making in Italy to do a drama for the Bob Hope Chrysler Theater.

Shelley is one of the busiest and hence one of the most traveled of actresses, and the situation rangles her somewhat.

"I've got to have an apartment here and an apartment in New York, as well as one in Rome," she said. "Why, oh why does there have to be 3,000 miles between the centers of films and of the stage? That's not so in England or Italy or any other country."

Even though she does the major portion of her work in Hollywood, she prefers to make New York her permanent base. You get from her the usual jazz from Manhattan-oriented actors who say they prefer the pace, theater, museums and seasons of New York. But she has other reasons for eschewing the local scene.

"Society here seems to be stratified as to how much money you earn or how big the gross of your last picture was," she commented. "That seems kind of artificial to me, and I don't want to be part of it."

"My agent says it's a bad idea for me to live in the East, that I miss out on parts by not being seen around Hollywood. I don't think so, but I could be wrong."

At any rate she keeps working, though she has a slight concern about being cast too much in the same vein. Having played a madam in the film version of Jean Genet's "The Balcony," she is up for the role of the late Polly Adler, noted New York madam of the 1920-30 era. The film would be based on the Adler autobiography, "A House is Not a Home."

Recipe Edition In The Mill For February

It's time again to send in those favorite recipes.

The 14th annual Democrat-Capital Recipe Section will be published Feb. 16, with recipes to be in before Feb. 8.

Housewives and good cooks throughout central Missouri are asked to share their favorite recipes with their neighbors next door or in the next county.

The recipes will be grouped under these headings: 1. cheese, special dishes; 2. preserves, pickles, relishes, canned goods; 3. vegetables; 4. salads, soups, sauces, sandwiches; 5. meats, poultry, fish; 6. beverages; 7. breads, rolls, muffins, waffles; 8. candy and cookies; 9. desert, pastries, pies; and 10. cakes and icings.

The recipe must be written on one side of the paper, with the name of the recipe at the top, then the name, address and town of the sender; and then the recipe itself. Be sure all ingredient measurements are correct.

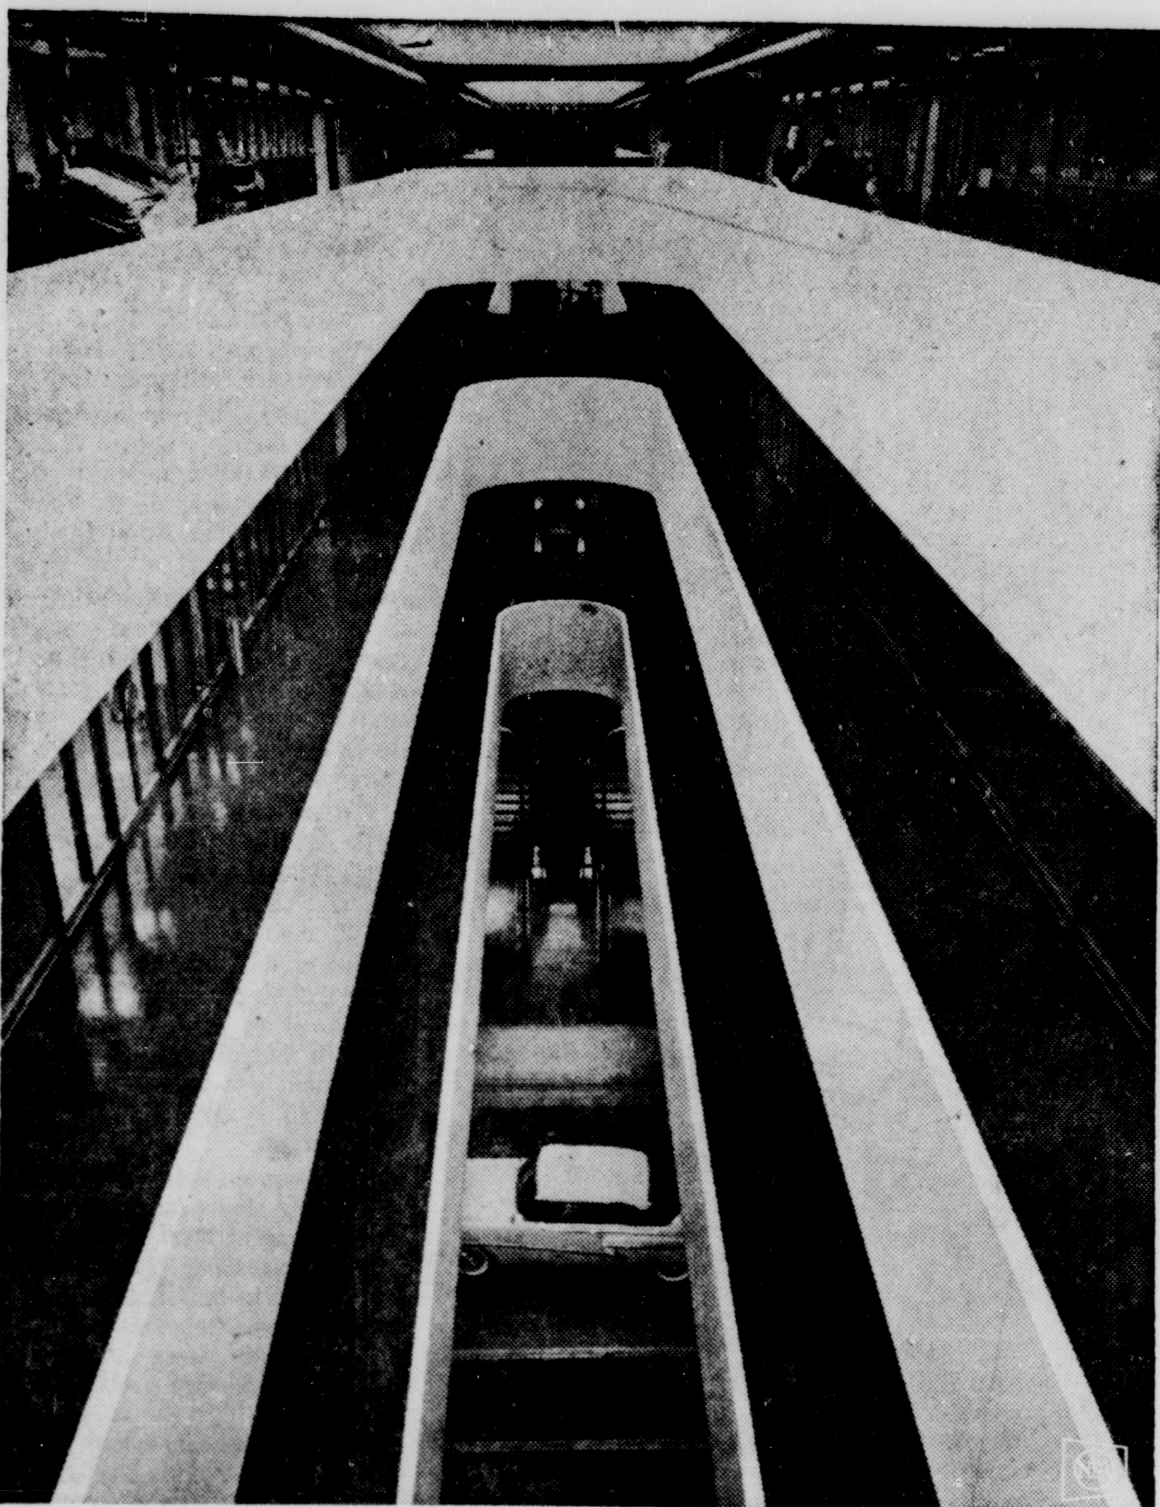

Send all recipes to the Recipe Editor, Sedalia Democrat-Capital, Sedalia, Mo.

Life Returns to Normal In Business Offices

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Life is getting back to normal in the average American business office, and everybody feels better.

At the start of a new year, there is always a tremendous surge of efficiency.

The suggestion box is stuffed with big ideas from the hired hands on how the company can dominate its industry, ideas which a thoughtful management promptly dumps in a wastebasket.

Everyone is full of pep, and attacks his duties with the frenzy of an eager beaver who is afraid there'll be no tomorrow.

Each employee rushes through breakfast to get to work on time. The time spent on coffee breaks drops.

The bunch that usually trade gossip at the water cooler now bend busily over their desks. Even the office boy quits spending half his day looking at himself in the washroom mirror while he combs his hair, and decides to take a course in night school to prepare himself for taking over the company's leadership.

At the end of five days of this extraordinary activity, Harry Quibble, the union shop steward, voices a worry: "If we keep up this pace, fellows, we'll have all the year's work done by April—and then they'll cut the office staff in half."

His concern is unnecessary. Enthusiasm for reform usually is short-winded.

Collection Sends 12 Persons On The Way

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Twelve persons, seven of them children, entered suburban Florissant Sunday hungry, with a broken down station wagon, and without money.

With the aid of police, they left for their homes in Jonesboro, Ark., with full stomachs, and a tank full of gasoline in a repaired auto.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Prince and their seven children, ranging in age from 2 to 10, and three other persons stopped at a service station on Missouri highway 140. They had come from Clinton, Iowa.

Florissant police took up a collection and sent them happily on their way.

Viewer Left On Edge By Social Drama

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS' "East Side, West Side" undoubtedly is one of the most interesting of this season's new television series. Along with all its virtues, it also is one of the least satisfactory of programs to watch.

It invariably is well acted by the guest performers and the regular cast, particularly the star, George C. Scott. He plays an idealistic social worker with such bite and impatience that he often comes off as the most unsympathetic character.

The scripts usually are hard-hitting. Week after week, the writers try to say something meaningful and important.

Therein, I suspect, lies the program's problem and weakness. It is so realistic and message-prone that it suffers as a drama.

Monday night's program was typical. It centered on the mother of three young children forced on public relief because her husband was a drug addict who could not hold a job.

Her weekly relief check was completely inadequate—the social message—and she did some moonlighting to supplement the family income. That led to charges she was a relief chiseler. But it was hard to make a sympathetic case for the woman because she had deliberately lied about working.

The other aspect of the program was concerned with the addicted husband. The program simply had to duck any kind of a neatly tied up ending after tossing this many-sided mess into the air.

We hit the closing commercial, therefore, without knowing whether mama would go to prison or whether daddy would sign himself into a hospital for the cure. And that is not a satisfactory way to wind up a dramatic program.

"East Side, West Side" is one of the many network programs somewhere between hit and miss whose future will be decided within the next few weeks.

By the end of the month, most of the life-or-death decisions will have been made, new deals for programs concluded.

Television mortality rates are usually very high. Each year some 30 programs—about one-third of the three networks' evening shows—are dropped. Some, like "Glynis," "Harry's Girls" and "The Jerry Lewis Show" are killed early in the season. Other weak shows totter along feebly through 26 or 32 weeks, and then are quietly interred.

Washington Is Talking Up New Gap; This One Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Washington is talking up another gap between the United States and the Soviet Union. This one is economic.

And the Central Intelligence Agency says that the gap between the two economies is much wider and more to our advantage than many Americans had been led to believe.

The CIA view is that the Soviet economy is badly in need of assistance from the West and largely on a credit basis.

Many American businessmen have industrial goods they'd like to sell the Soviets, if Washington permitted; and many consumer items they'd like to sell, if Moscow would allow it. But the CIA adds that Moscow hasn't as much gold to pay for such trade as had generally been assumed.

Previously Americans have worried about a possible missile gap, but of late have been assured that U.S. defenses are far ahead.

U.S. trade with the Soviet Union is currently being increased by contracts for sale of surplus wheat and other grains. Otherwise it doesn't amount to much, either in volume or in percentage of U.S. foreign trade.

Western Europe's trade with the East is larger. And it is growing, despite the frowns of Washington on some of the items the West is furnishing. In return, Europe is taking Soviet oil, to the distress of American oil companies and of State Department officials who see it as beefing up a faltering Communist economy.

'Nonsense,' Says One

BALTIMORE (AP) — "There must be something to it," Dr. William F. Reinhoff III says of the surgeon general's report on smoking and health.

"Nonsense," Dr. William F. Reinhoff Jr., his father, said Sunday.

Both art chest surgeons. The father, who doesn't smoke, is on the scientific advisory board of the Tobacco Research Institute.

The son, who does, teaches at the Johns Hopkins Medical School.

nist economy. The Soviet Union will soon have a pipeline delivering its oil to the edge of the Iron Curtain.

The comforting word on how much better the American economy is doing than the Soviet's is spelled out in figures by the CIA. It says that in the last two years the Soviet economic growth has been less than 2.5 per cent annually.

Despite all the worrying about it, the U.S. economic growth has been well above that and currently is put as high as 5 per cent on an annual basis.

Moscow's gold reserves go unreported officially. American experts have estimated them as high as $4 billion. But the CIA says they've fallen below $2 billion since Moscow started selling in volume to raise foreign currency for purchase of wheat and other needed commodities.

American businessmen regard the CIA estimates as largely aimed at trying to discourage Europeans from extending credit to the hard-pressed Communists. But they also see it as perhaps a foreshadowing of future refusals of Washington to permit extended trade here with the Soviets, who might be wanting chemical plants or fertilizer among other things.

In 1962 our exports to the U.S.S.R. totalled $15.3 million out of $20.5 billion for all exports; and imports $16.2 million out of $16.1 billion. The wheat deals will raise the figures this year.

But businessmen hoping to follow up the wheat exports with sales of more American goods apparently will still face tough Washington restrictions on just what can be sold, and discouragement on granting credit.

Puffing in Peril...

Human beings are sometimes more rationalizing than rational; they usually find excuses for doing what they want to do.

Those who want to smoke will do so, despite release of the government's long-awaited report on tobacco and cancer. Hence, they will seize on the fact that there is still no "absolutely proved" cause-and-effect relationship between smoking and lung cancer and other diseases.

There never will be such 100 per cent proof, for medical science is not that exact, nor cancer that simple.

Smokers are now officially on notice, however, that they puff at their peril.

The tobacco industry is not going to collapse. Sales reached all-time highs in 1963. Though the government's report will possibly result in an overall decline in tobacco usage—a severe dip now, a slow recovery later—the industry, like the nation during the Depression, will continue to be "fundamentally sound." Drops in cigarette smoking could be offset by increases in cigar and pipe tobacco consumption.

Tobacco men can be happy about one thing: The worst is over. It is to be hoped that they will now cease blowing up statistical smoke screens to try to prove that cigarettes don't hurt anyone and concentrate their resources on finding out just what it is in tobacco that is injurious.

Men have been comforted by the weed for several hundred years. They will beat a path to the door of anyone who can give them a healthy smoke.

The smart one, though, will not get the habit in the first place.

The World Today

Panama Crisis Compared to Suez

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—While there is some similarity between events now involving the Panama Canal and what happened at the Suez Canal in 1956 there is small chance the outcome will be the same.

The Egyptians seized Suez in 1956 and have run it since. But Secretary of State Dean Rusk says this country cannot afford to pull out of the Panama Canal Zone even though the Panama Assembly has demanded Panamanian control.

What was similar at both canals was the rising nationalism of Egyptians and Panamanians and their resentment of a foreign presence on their soil: the British at Suez and Americans in Panama.

In both cases, Egyptian and Panamanian nationalism was a by-product of World War II, which left the European colonial powers so prostrated they had to yield their colonies.

To Panamanians and others, particularly in Latin America, Americans in Panama no doubt mean sheer colonialism even though this country has a treaty with Panama to be there and run the canal.

Because this country is so big, considers itself the leader of the free world, and is trying to keep small and backward countries away from communism, it cannot help but feel self-conscious in its dispute with poor and tiny Panama.

For this reason the Panamanians can feel encouraged to push and push for concessions. By the same token, this country undoubtedly will feel compelled to make them although, from what Rusk says, not total withdrawal.

The background of the two canals is not identical.

While the French built the Suez Canal in 1869, the British became the canal company's biggest stockholder in 1875. They subsequently built a huge military base at Suez.

After the war, the Egyptians, like the rest of the Arab world, had enough of colonialism. They saw the British give up India in 1948. In 1952 an army revolt threw out King Farouk and took over Egypt. Not long afterward Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser became president.

He pressured the British into pulling their troops out of Suez. The United States and Britain hoped to win him over, offered to help him build a huge dam across the Nile. He dickered with the Soviet Union and tried to play both ends against the middle. He proclaimed himself a neutralist.

The United States and Britain withdrew their offer of help on the dam. Nasser retaliated by seizing the canal. Not long afterward Britain, France and Israel began an invasion of Egypt. This came to a quick stop when the United States and the Soviet Union disapproved.

The canal company's contract with Egypt was to run until 1968 after which the Suez was to be turned over to Egypt. Nasser took it 12 years ahead of time. The situation is different with the Panama Canal.

This country's 1903 treaty with Panama for American control of the canal completely lacks a limit like the British had at Suez. It says American control is to run forever, or at least indefinitely. This alone has irritated Panamanians.

Critics of U.S. Spending Stand in Own Bear Trap

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON—As this year's federal budget totals dance around the $100 billion mark, there is dismal news for those who imagine the fiscal line is being tightly held at the state and local government level.

Spending, employment, borrowing, debt accumulation and taxing are rising faster among the 50 states and 91,000 local units than in the federal establishment.

Currently, all state-local outlays top $70 billion annually, and by fiscal 1968 they, too, should hit $100 billion. They climb about 10 per cent a year.

Unless this trend, which has been running strong for years, is slowed or arrested, it could pose a mounting problem for politicians and organizations accustomed to aiming at the federal target.

They argue that Washington constantly steals functions from the state-local level, and at the same time sucks up revenues that ought to be left to government's lower echelons.

But clearly state and local units generally are not starving for money.

Their tax revenues from their own sources (leaving out federal grants in aid) have bounded upward by 115 per cent in the decade 1952-1962 and still are rising.

In the same period, however, their general expenditures have gone up 129 per cent.

The difference has been made up by federal assistance—and borrowing. State-local debt today exceeds $85 billion, as compared with $30 billion in 1952.

These figures (all from Census Bureau and other official sources) suggest that the critics of federal spending alter their argument.

The old cry—"turn back major functions to the states and cities"—could develop an odd echo as it bounces off the enlarging structure of state-local government.

A Washington official who does not wish to be named ventures this: "It may be that if you squeeze government spending down at one level, it will pop out in another place."

How much it has been popping out in the states and cities is indicated by a special analysis made by the President's Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

To draw a comparison, the agency stripped federal outlays down to those properly labeled "civil functions." It eliminated spending for defense, foreign aid and finance, space, veterans' benefits and services (except education) and interest on the U.S. debt (on the theory most of it was induced by war and cold war).

The commission finds that in fiscal 1962, last period for which parallels can be drawn, federal "civil" expenditures reached $51.5 billion.

Admittedly, state-local units led by a 16-10 ratio as far back as 1948. But the point the commission makes is that spending below the federal level is more than matching the rising magnitude of Washington's outlays.

Some critics still fix chief blame on Washington, arguing that federal aid programs "coerce" added state spending. The same anonymous federal official answers: "They coax maybe, but they don't coerce."

He contends some states refuse the aid, others "overmatch," laying out far more than they must to get U.S. funds.

Assistance for highways and public welfare account for most of the federal chunk.

The big spenders still gather in force on the banks of the Potomac. But their rivals in city and state are multiplying fast.

'Winter Itch' Victims Get Relief From Cool Baths

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I am a 50-year-old housewife. After I take a bath, especially in winter, my skin itches all over so that I can hardly stand it. Sometimes in winter, the itching starts as soon as I take my clothes off even if I haven't taken a bath. What can I do?

A—You have a harmless but very annoying condition called "winter itch." It sometimes helps to omit hot baths and take sponge baths using cold water. Be sure to rinse off all the soap. If you prefer to get into the tub, have the water as cool as you can stand it and use little or no soap. Add a teaspoonful of water-dispersible bath oil (Sardol) to the bath water if your skin is inclined to be dry.

Q—What are the side effects of Chloromycetin? This drug has been recommended for my allergy.

A—Chloramphenicol (Chloromycetin) is an antibiotic and not a treatment for allergy. Side effects occur when the user is unusually sensitive to the drug. These consist of nausea, vomiting and, in some persons, anemia. Anyone who takes the drug should have frequent blood counts.

Q—I have a small brown spot on my forehead. It isn't sore, but occasionally it gets a thin scale on it. This comes off and later another one forms. Is this a form of skin cancer?

A—The spot you describe may or may not be a skin cancer. Recurring scales form in pityriasis rosea and psoriasis, but not on the forehead. In seborrheic dermatitis, closely associated with dandruff, the forehead is commonly affected. If there is a hard, inflamed base around the edges of the spot, that would suggest a skin cancer.

Q—I am 67 and have an enlarged heart. My doctor has had me taking Miltate for several years. What are these pills supposed to do?

A—Miltate is a compound that contains a muscle relaxant to lessen anxiety and nervous tension and a vasodilator to prevent attacks of angina pectoris. The latter is strictly a preventive drug and will not relieve an acute attack of anginal pain.

Q—What foods are constipating and what foods will relieve constipation?

A—No foods are constipating, but such foods as sugar, cheese and butter leave no residue and therefore do not help to move your bowels. If you eat concentrated foods to the exclusion of foods that contain fibrous residue, you will become constipated. Fresh or canned fruits and vegetables will give you the roughage you need.

Democrat Pick-ups

ROBIN, the two and a half-year old daughter of a Sedalia couple, is young for a philosophy of life—but she has one.

One evening recently her parents were having a mild argument—they weren't really screaming at each other but their voices were a little higher than usual and Robin decided it was time for her to intervene.

"Hey, everybody," she said, coming up to them—"Everybody don't be mean to everybody! Everybody is a good boy."

Well, the little peace-maker won her point—they both laughed—they couldn't help it, and once again everybody was happy with everybody—and the voices were gay and normal again.

Robin will probably grow up to be a diplomat, for one as skilled in settling little disagreements at two and a half would be quite an asset in tactfully smoothing out difficulties by the time she is grown—because after all "Everybody is a good boy" and that is a mighty important way to look at things.—H. ## Problem for California Voters

DREW PEARSON

LOS ANGELES—What does the state of California do when an attractive and devoted wife props up her ailing senatorial husband and announces "We Are Going to Run Again," despite an incurable brain tumor which makes it almost impossible for the Senator to represent his state?

That is the big question which California voters may be forced to consider regarding Sen. Clair Engle, democrat, who has just announced for reelection.

Behind that announcement is the pathetic story of a man who served long and ably in the House of Representatives, briefly but ably in the senate, and last summer was stricken with one of the most dread of all afflictions—an inoperable brain tumor.

As a result, he has been either hospitalized or out of commission for five months, returned to the senate floor twice just before congress recessed, courageously pulling one leg behind him with the help of a cane and, because of impaired speech, not able to participate in debates.

Despite this, his attractive and determined wife, Lou, worked out a TV film, after some editing in order to clarify the Senator's speech, announcing that he would run again.

Mrs. Engle has been quoting Dr. Roy Sexton that her husband is physically able to run. However, the Senator has been carefully shielded from the Press, and the records of the Bethesda Naval Hospital are reported to indicate just the opposite of Dr. Sexton's pronouncement.

Dan Kimball, former Secretary of the Navy, and a leading California Democrat, has informed other California leaders that Naval Hospital authorities are quite pessimistic about Sen. Engle's ability to carry on his duties as a Senator for any length of time.

Because of the inoperability of his tumor, he has been given cobalt treatments, used only in extreme cases, and seldom if ever a permanent cure.

These are delicate health matters which California leaders hesitate to discuss. Nevertheless they necessarily must be discussed regarding the Senate representation of one of the biggest states in the union.

No one has yet discussed with Mrs. Engle, however, just what her plans are. Speculation is that she would like to run in her husband's place, or step into her husband's shoes later. However, these are matters which obviously cannot be broached to the wife of a sick man.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Engle has announced that Don Bradley will manage her husband's campaign, though Bradley knew nothing about the announcement, and has said privately he will not do so.

Meanwhile three and possibly four other

HAMILTON (Ont.) SPECTATOR: No Use Arguing

—We were amused to read about the man who, after being taken to the police station on a drunk driving charge, began arguing with a recorded announcement on the telephone.

"The number you have dialed has been disconnected . . ." the voice kept repeating. But the inebriated driver would not accept the fact. The argument between man and machine raged. Finally, the police got him off the phone.

Later, in court, the driver explained his predicament. "Back in the old days when you had a problem on the telephone, there was a female voice to help," he said. "I don't have a phone now and rarely use one. I didn't know about these modern electronic gadgets."

We may not excuse his actions, but we can sympathize with his reasoning. More and more, the human touches which gave life and warmth are being replaced by the cold, methodical edicts of robots. Inebriated or not, one cannot win an argument with a robot.

Legendary Goblin

In the term "nightmare," meaning a terrifying dream, the ending "mare" comes from a word for a goblin, who, according to legend, is said to cause these dreams, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Democratic candidates are definitely planning to run for the Senate. They are:

Rep. James Roosevelt of Los Angeles who has carved out a real place for himself in the House of Representatives, has his father's charm and personality, and has acquired a following in California not only as a congressman but as a candidate for governor in 1950.

Alan Cranston, the comptroller general, who was reelected by the biggest majority in 1962 of any elected officer in any state in the union.

Stanley Mosk, the very popular attorney general who is also Democratic National committeeman and was elected by a bigger margin than most of the Democratic ticket.

Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles, a maverick Democrat who became a Nixon-lover during the 1960 presidential campaign and hence is not loved by a good many Democrats. He has not decided yet whether he will run for the Senate, but if so might pick up quite a few Republican votes.

This is the array of varied and active political talent which may find itself running against a senator with impaired speech, who walks with a cane but has the support of a very determined wife.

Republican AWOLs

Though Democrats chalked up most of the absenteeism which helped to make the 1963 Congress one of the worst sessions in history, one star Republican on the AWOL list was the GOP National chairman, Bill Miller of New York.

Miller missed 51.2 per cent of legislative roll calls on the House floor, which he is paid to attend. If he were paid on a piecework basis like many factory workers, his salary would be cut in half.

Other Republicans who were high up on the AWOL list were Rep. William Ayres, Ohio (absent 29.4 per cent); Rep. William Avery, Kans., (24.4 per cent); Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen, N. J., (22.7 per cent); Rep. Walter Riehlman, N. Y. (21 per cent); Rep. Paul Fino, N. Y. (22.7 per cent) and Rep. Paul Schenck, Ohio (21 per cent).

No Work, No Pay

Republican Congressman H. R. Gross Iowa, the watchdog of federal spending, will demand that the new session of Congress live up to the U. S. Constitution regarding members who are absent without leave.

Section 6, Article 1 of the Constitution, provides that Senators or Congressmen who are absent for reasons other than illness shall have their pay docked for every day they do not show up on the floor.

The same pay penalty applies under the Constitution to members who leave town before adjournment, without official leave, as many did recently while the House was debating the foreign aid appropriation.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: Dirksen: Congressional approval of tax reduction and civil rights legislation has been forecast by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen.

But the Illinois Republican said he had grave doubts that the civil rights bill now pending in the House Rules Committee can win approval in its present form.

Appearing Sunday on a taped radio-television program with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., Dirksen recalled he had told the late President John F. Kennedy he could not go along with the controversial section to desegregate such public accommodations as privately owned hotels, motels and restaurants.

He said there were others who shared his view that the provision should call for voluntary desegregation and added he thought it would be difficult to get support of two-thirds of those voting to stop the certain Southern filibuster against the bill.

Dirksen said he believes the House-passed tax cut bill will be approved in time to be made retroactive to Jan. 1. The measure is now under consideration by the Senate Finance Committee. But Dirksen said he doubted final Senate passage would come before mid-February.

Mansfield said Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield says he favors retaining the Agency for International Development, but thinks foreign military aid should be put under the Defense Department.

The Montana Democrat said in an interview Saturday he formerly favored putting all foreign economic assistance under the State Department, "but times have changed and so have my views on the subject." He didn't elaborate.

A special commission headed by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball is reviewing the entire structure of the foreign aid program. It is scheduled to make its report Wednesday.

Ball is said to favor dividing the program between the State Department, to handle military aid; and an independent aid program for Latin America.

Federal spending: Six Republican members of the Senate House Economic Committee plan to sponsor legislation for a two-year study of federal spending policies.

Bills to be introduced in both houses of Congress would establish a bipartisan commission, including congressmen, representatives of the executive branch and private citizens from business, labor and the professions.

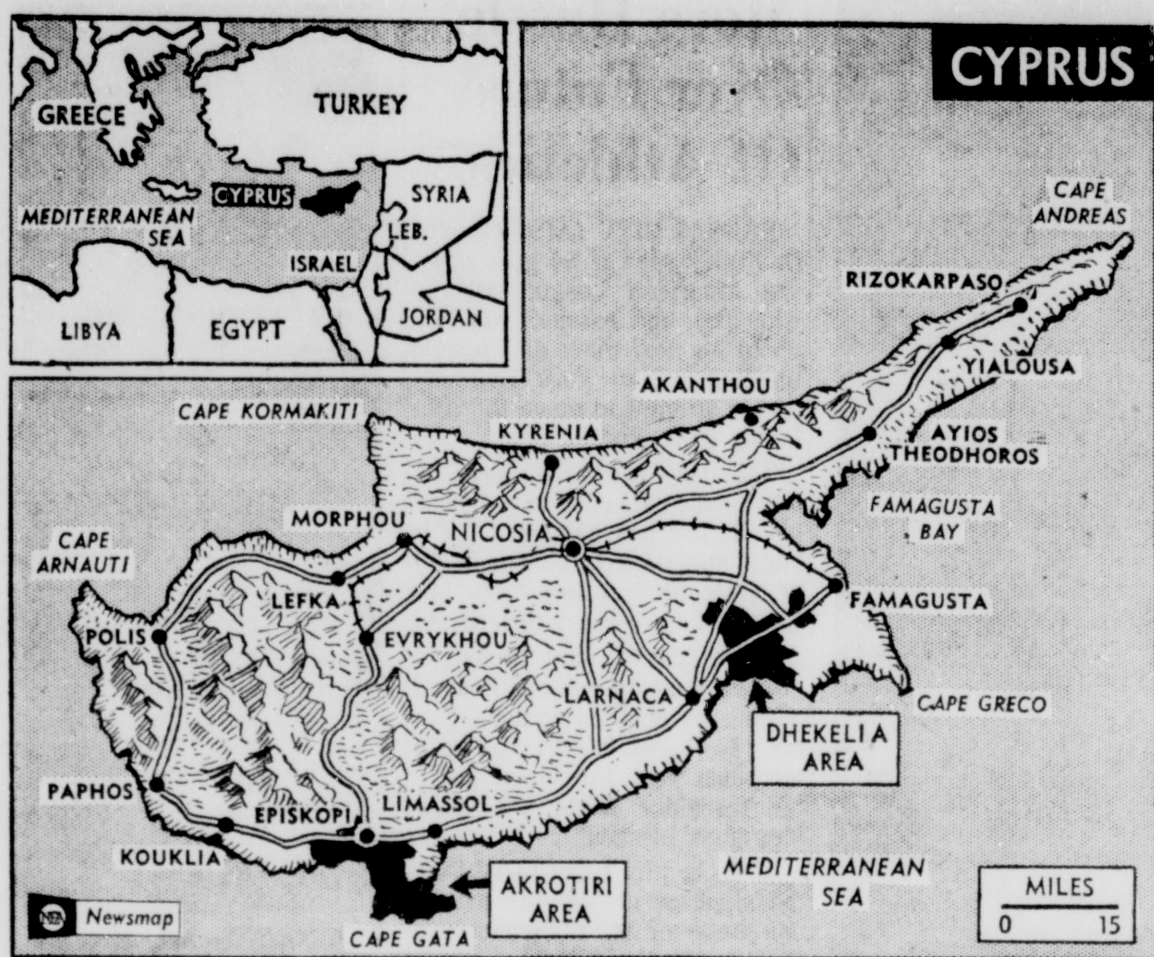

The commission would be directed to study and make recommendations on possibilities of turning some federal functions over to the private economy or state or local government, charging of fees for some government special services, spending priorities among government programs and improvement of budgetary processes.

How To Buy a Car

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Writer

I suppose it sounds kind of silly, but can anybody out there tell me how to buy a car.

It must be simple to do. They say that seven million people buy one every year. But I can't seem to get the hang of it.

You see, I lived overseas for a long time, and I'm still trying to catch onto these American ways. One trouble seems to be that I just can't talk to the fellows who sell automobiles.

I can't seem to talk to the fellows who sell life insurance or encyclopedias, either, but that is another story.

I don't own a car now. My wife and I live in the great stone cave district of Manhattan, and if we want to go any place, we call a taxi, or if we are in a hurry we take the subway.

But the cat has been looking kind of peaked lately, and we thought if we had a car we might take him out in the fresh air on drives and things.

We also feel sort of unpatriotic without a car. It seems to be so important to the economy to buy one.

Anyway, I saw one the other day that didn't look too much like an aircraft carrier in dry dock and went in to try to buy it. It was a complete failure.

The first thing I did was walk up to a man and say: "How much is that car in the window?"

He beamed. "I can make you the best deal in town on that one," he said.

That was surprising because he didn't even know me, but I said, "Swell. How much?"

"Make me an offer, any ridiculous offer," he said. "I'll probably take it."

"Gee," I said. "I wouldn't know where to begin. I've never seen the price of a car written down or ever heard one spoken out loud. Why don't you tell me how much it costs?"

"Tell you what I'll do," he said. "I sold one just like it a few minutes ago for 2875. I'll knock 200 dollars off that and stretch the payments over 36 months."

Apparently he had cheated the last fellow but he liked me.

"I was thinking of paying cash," I said.

"Cash!" he said.

"Well, yes," I said.

"I'll have to check with the boss on that," the man said, backing away from me. "But if you'll take the payments deal I'll knock another 200 off the price and give you 500 more on your trade-in."

"But I don't have a trade-in," I said.

"I mean the car you're driving now," the man said. "I don't care if it's even got a motor in it. If you can push it here, I'll take it."

"You mean the best way to buy a new car is to buy an old car first?" I asked.

"That's the best way, buddy," the man said and walked away.

So I went to a used car place and saw a car with the words "a steal" written in white on the windshield.

"How much is that car?" I asked the man there.

"Make me an offer," he said.

"Any offer."

And that's where I gave up.

Banks Wondering About Rise In Interest Rates

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Commercial banks are wondering if interest rates must go up again if they're to hold their quota of savings accounts. Right now, they're slipping a bit.

This month is dedicated to paying, or at least pondering, the Christmas bills. So banks are resigned to having their savings account volume likely to fall. Recovering lost ground is the question mark.

This year the competition is rougher than ever—and from some different angles than a year ago.

Consumers have been spending more, for one thing, and saying they plan to spend still more for the things for which they have to borrow as well as make down payments. Some of them apparently are running low on cash, since delinquent loans have risen in volume, although about normally for the season.

A buoyant stock market also is a rival of the banks for any dollars the public has left over after meeting the pressing bills. Other types of savings institutions have been tempting those who do save by offering higher interest rates than commercial banks may legally do.

Even the U.S. Treasury's savings bond drive is bringing in the most sales in seven years, although there has been considerable talk of the need to raise the interest on these if they are to compete in today's market.

Under federal regulations, the commercial bank interest rates are limited to 3½ per cent for the first year of deposit and 4 per cent thereafter. This is now being paid in most sections of the nation.

Savings banks' rates, however, have gone above this. In New York many now pay 4½ per cent in the first year of deposit.

Savings and loan associations often pay still higher returns, especially on the West Coast.

Competition for savings may take on a new aspect if the federal tax cut goes through.

If the additional money boosts business activity as hoped, savings will play a role in providing funds for investment and expansion. If rise is more than a boomlet, interest rates might easily climb—both what lenders can get from borrowers because of the increased demand for loans, and also what the savers can get from institutions looking for funds to lend out at the more lucrative rates.

Mrs. Gasperson To Presidency Of ABW Club

Mrs. Della Gasperson, 1001 South Grand, was elected president of the Sedalia Charter Chapter, American Business Women's Association, at a meeting of that organization Jan. 7 in the Walnut Room of the Bothwell Hotel.

Other officers elected to serve with Mrs. Gasperson were: Miss Margaret Bohon, vice-president; Miss Emma Kraft, recording secretary; Mrs. Grace Reed, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Elda Swink, treasurer.

As each officer was installed she was presented a corsage of white carnation, the official ABWA flower, tied with black and gold, official ABWA colors.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Mary Couts, manager of the Rest Haven Nursing Home on South Ingram, who told of the modern facilities and conveniences of the new nursing home recently built and opened to accommodate 48 patients. Mrs. Couts stated that they always had a waiting list.

Mrs. Couts related numerous human interest stories and one was of a little woman, 97 years old, who was receiving a permanent pension by the manager and the woman, concerned about the gray in her hair. "Next time," she asked Mrs. Couts, "will you put a rinse on my hair?"

Diet, Mrs. Couts said, is a very important part of the nursing care given to patients. So many visitors bring things to eat that the patients cannot have and upset the whole diet routine, as was the case of one man, a diabetic, who told his visitors that they were not giving him enough to eat. So the next time she brought candy, which made his sugar count go quite high.

The faith these older people have of the vision of a brighter tomorrow, Mrs. Couts said, renews the hope of a place beyond this world.

The speaker was introduced by Miss Luella Schlesselman, program chairman.

The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Lorine Owen.

Miss White presented Mrs. Evelyn Rabourn, who told in an interesting way about her work as a second grade teacher at Mark Twain School, as a cashier on weekend at Beverly's and as head of the ticket depart-

Lovers of Parks Owe Debt To Champion Funds-Getter

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you've ever enjoyed the natural wonders of one of America's national parks, the chances are you owe a debt of thanks to Conrad Wirth, one government official who has rarely been turned down when seeking an appropriation from Congress.

Wirth, who has headed the National Park Service since 1951, goes into retirement next week a happy man. He is not even upset by the egg-shell scatterers, beer-can tossers and initial carvers who once in a while mess up the scenic and historic spots it's been his privilege to supervise.

Wirth's career and the park service's have been unusual in the federal government.

For one thing, Congress has almost fallen over itself to give the park service what it wants.

An example: When Wirth came up with the idea for Mission 66, a mammoth program of improvement and expansion that will run until 1966, the House Appropriations Committee voted $17 million more for the first year than Wirth had asked for.

Congress usually reflects the feeling of the people.

Wirth once wrote for an Interior Department book:

"Truly the parks are being loved to death."

George B. Herzog Jr., who has been associate director of the park service under Wirth, succeeds him as director.

Wirth, who was born in the City Park of Hartford, Conn.—his father was park superintendent and the family had a house there—was 61 on December 1. There was no urgency to retire.

"I could stay on until I'm 70," he said in an interview. "But I believe 60-65 is a good time to retire. A person should retire while he is healthy and feeling good, leaving the organization in good shape."

Wirth has been in government service since 1928, starting with the National Capital Parks and Planning Commission.

He is turning over to Herzog the world's finest park system, one that other nations are glad to copy so far as they can, and one that has become steadily more popular with its owners, the American people.

Here are a few figures: The billionth visit to park areas, since records began 58 years earlier, was recorded in August 1962. The second billion is due to be recorded in 1973, only 11 years later. Visits now are running around 90 million a year.

Ford Wins Motor Trend's "Car of the Year" Award

January 8: Motor Trend magazine's "Car of the Year"

Award goes to an engineering breakthrough! It honors all the '64s from Ford "For engineering advancement in the concept of Total Performance, proven in open competition."

Thunderbird, Falcon, Super Torque Ford, Fairlane (reading counterclockwise); winners of Motor Trend's "Car of the Year" Award

Here's what the Motor Trend Award means to you...

The editors of Motor Trend, America's largest general automotive magazine, watched Ford's total performance in open competition... saw competition-modified Fords win every 500-mile stock car race in the last year, saw Ford-built engines end an era at Indianapolis and sweep the sports car circuits.

Then they drove the 1964 Fords, Falcons, Fairlanes and Thunderbirds and discovered how the lessons of open competition have helped breed into them a new kind of total performance for the open road, for your kind of driving. And then they made their award!

The "Car of the Year" Award is an impressive testimonial, but see for yourself—take the wheel of a '64 from Ford. These cars speak for themselves with their ease of handling in a supermarket parking lot or their greater stability on a rain-slick blacktop.

Before you buy any new car this year, test-drive total performance in a Solid, Silent Super Torque Ford, now hundreds of pounds more car than anything in its field. Try America's only total performance compact, the Falcon V-8, totally new, totally changed. Or, any of the '64 Cars of the Year from Ford!

Cowboys Crack Cage Hex, Take Lead From K-State

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

This might be a big year for Henry Iba's Oklahoma State Cowboys, now that they've cracked the Kansas State hex.

Oklahoma State smacked K-State 77-58 Monday night at Stillwater and took over the Big Eight basketball lead with a 3-0 record, 11-3 for all games. Jim King, Iba's gifted 6-foot-6 front-liner, handcuffed K-State's Willie Murrell with just six points. Murrell had a 30.5 average for his first two league games.

It was only the second victory for Iba in 18 games against K-State during his 30-year career at Stillwater. OSU still must play at K-State, but the victory gives the Cowboys a strong head start.

K-State, now 1-2 in the league and 4-5 for all games, has the added handicap of an opening loss to Colorado at Manhattan.

Colorado rebounded from its Kansas defeat and clipped Missouri 90-77 in the other league game Monday night. Jim Davis scored 32 points and grabbed 21 rebounds for Colorado in possibly the top game of his career.

This left Colorado third in the league race with a 2-1 record, behind surprising Nebraska, 2-0. Nebraska plays at Kansas, 1-2, tonight. The Jayhawks can move into the first division with a victory over Nebraska, which opened league play with a 1-0 record.

K-State, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma are all tied at 1-2 and Iowa State stands 0-2.

Iba, known as the Iron Duke, always has a highly-disciplined, strong defensive team, but he's seldom—if ever—had the gifted shooters he has this season.

The Cowboys hit a phenomenal 58.8 per cent from the field against K-State and 85 per cent of their foul shots.

Bruins Up Their Lead In Press Poll

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The unbeaten UCLA Bruins have increased their lead in The Associated Press' weekly major college basketball poll on the strength of back-to-back victories over Southern California and Kentucky's second loss of the season.

The Bruins beat USC 79-59 and 78-71 last week and lifted their record to 13-0. Kentucky, runner-up a week ago, was defeated by Vanderbilt in its first of three games last week and tumbled to fourth.

UCLA drew 35 first place votes and 404 points in the latest vote by a special panel of 41 regional selectors. Loyola of Chicago moved up one place to second with 312 points while Michigan also advanced one place to third with 298 points. Kentucky had 242. Points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second etc.

Loyola of Chicago beat Marquette 96-80 in its only outing last week for an 11-1 record. Michigan has the same won-loss mark after turning back Purdue 77-70. Kentucky, after its loss to Vanderbilt, whipped LSU and Tulane to put its record at 12-2.

Undefeated Davidson remained in the No. 5 spot followed by Vanderbilt, Oregon State, Cincinnati, Villanova and Duke.

The Top Ten with first place votes in parentheses and total points:

1. UCLA (35) 404
2. Chicago Loyola (1) 312
3. Michigan (2) 298
4. Kentucky 242
5. Davidson (2) 217
6. Vanderbilt 205
7. Oregon State (1) 107
8. Cincinnati 100
9. Villanova 91
10. Duke 72

Entries For Bowling Tourney Are Increasing

The 16th Annual Sedalia Men's Bowling Association Tournament entries are gradually increasing but will not be accepted after midnight, Sunday, Jan. 19.

The date schedule for the team events is Feb. 8, 9, 15 and 16, while singles and doubles will be rolled on Feb. 16, 22 and 23.

In an endeavor to get teams to bowl on Saturday afternoons an additional $25 in prize monies is being offered.

It is the hope of the Association officials the 1964 tournament will surpass that of 1963 when a record entry was received. There were 132 teams, 326 singles, 163 doubles and 152 all-events.

Smith In Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tom Smith, Army halfback, underwent knee surgery at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center Monday.

A hospital spokesman said Monday night that Smith was reported in very good condition.

Wichita In Command Of Valley

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A potent Wichita team is in command in Missouri Valley basketball after using its favorite weapon, the full-court pressing defense, to crack the St. Louis home court jinx in decisive fashion.

The Shockers clipped St. Louis 69-56 Monday night for a 4-0 Valley record, 12-3 for all games. Wichita had won only once in St. Louis the previous seven years.

Coach Ralph Miller has used the full-court press in all but three games this season, and they are the three Wichita losses to Texas Western, Arizona State and Ohio State.

Since the Ohio State defeat at Columbus, Wichita has won six straight by margins of from 13 to 33 points. The Shockers have won 10 of 11 since their defeat at Arizona State.

Little Leonard Kelley led Wichita with 17 points, 6-foot-10 Nate Bowman hit 16 and 6-7 Dave Stallworth 15. Stallworth went into the game as the Valley's top scorer with a 28-point average.

Wichita led by as much as 21 points in the last half although Bowman and Kelly Pete drew four fouls and spent much time on the bench. Rich Naes hit 13 for the Billikens.

The defeat left St. Louis with a 3-2 record in the Valley and 9-5 for all games. Cincinnati's defending champs stand 2-0 in the Valley and 9-3 for all games. Bradley plays at Cincinnati Wednesday and Cincy goes to Drake for its first conference road game Saturday.

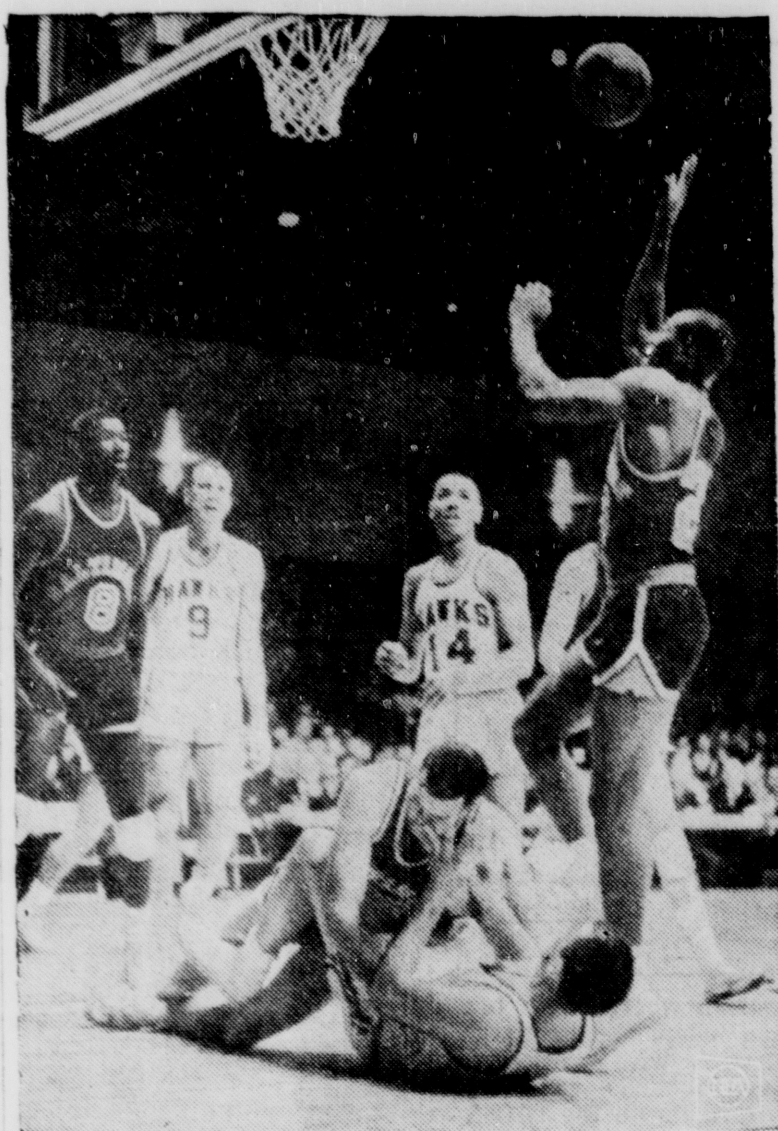

Drake pushed its season record to 9-3 Monday by smashing New Mexico State 84-43 at Des Moines, with McCoy McLemore hitting 19. Drake stands 1-1 in league play. The Drake victory gave the Valley a 53-23 won-loss record against outside teams this season.

Stallworth's average dropped to 27.1 after the St. Louis game, but he's still so far in front he could go scoreless the next two games and still be at 23.9, compared to the runner-up mark of 23.3 by Ron Bonham, Cincy All America. Tulsa's Bill Kusleika is third at 22.6, John Savage of North Texas fourth with 20.9.

Other leading scorers are John Reuther, Louisville 19.9; Lavern Tart, Bradley 17.5; Joe Strawder, Bradley 17.3; John Smith, St. Louis 16.3; Garland Bailey, North Texas 15.5; McLemore 15.3; George Wilson, Cincinnati 14.9; Rick Park, Tulsa 14.8 and Billy Foster, Drake 14.2.

Park leads the Valley in field goal shooting with 60.6 per cent. Bailey has 57.3, Smith 54.5, Stallworth 54.0 and Bonham 51.8 all before Monday's games. Park also leads in foul shooting accuracy with 89.8 per cent. Bailey has 85.7, Tart 80.2, Smith 78.0 and Bonham 76.7.

Wilson is the rebounding leader with 12.4 grabs a game. Savage has a 12.0 average, McLemore 10.9 and Rich Parks of St. Louis 10.0.

HEY! THE GAME'S UP HERE—Gene Tormohlen, of the St. Louis Hawks (on the floor) and the Baltimore Bullets' Barney Cable (on top of Tormohlen) seem to have forgotten that the basketball game at St. Louis is being played in the air. The basket Gus Johnson is tossing was disallowed as Cable was charged with offensive foul before the shot. Watching action are Bullets' Walt Bellamy, 8, and Hawks' Bob Pettit, 9, and Len Wilkens, 14.

More Hassle Over Future Of Athletics

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles O. Finley says if he goes down the American League will go with him, and baseball wonders about his next move at a league meeting in New York Thursday on his attempt to move the Athletics to Louisville.

The fiery A's owner says he has been "backed into a corner by all that has happened." His latest statements would indicate he feels he has the American League in a corner, instead.

Finley said Monday the league owners and Joe Cronin, league president, helped arranged his trips to Dallas in 1961 and Oakland last year to discuss possible franchise shifts and gave him their blessing.

"This is why I say there isn't the slightest chance the league can make me sell my franchise," Finley told Ernie Mehl, Kansas City Star sports editor, by telephone from Chicago.

"The league is as involved in this as I am," he said. "This isn't all, but I'm saving some things to spring at the meeting."

The baseball world wonders what weapons Finley might have in mind.

Finley has denied reports he might file a law suit against the other owners if they turn down his request to move to Louisville.

Several U.S. senators will be present at the league meeting in New York. Their presence might renew the spectre of anti-trust legislation for the club owners. Finley, 45, a Chicago-based insurance executive, has said repeatedly he considers baseball a business, not a sport.

The business affairs of all other professional team sports are subject to anti-trust regulations—but not baseball's. Some members of Congress would like to see baseball regulated and taxed as a business, not a sport.

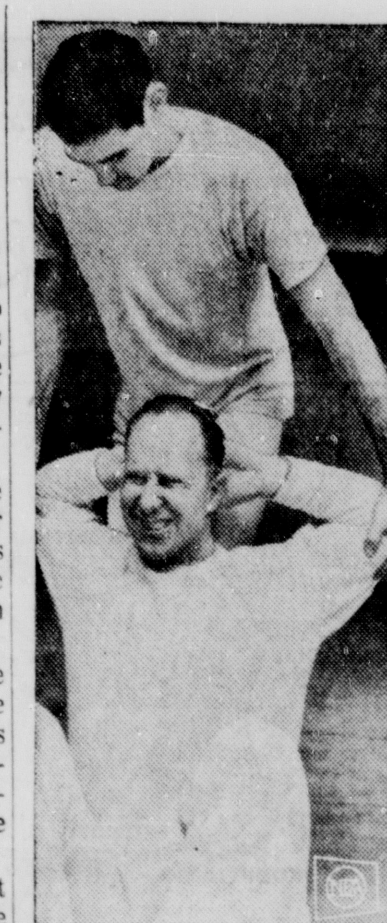

The Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee plans another look soon at baseball's exempt status under the anti-trust laws. In 1953, the U.S. Supreme Court said baseball was a sport, not a business, in a rule upholding the game's reserve clause, which puts each player under absolute control of the club that owns his contract. There are some who contend this amounts to slave labor.

The owners don't want the Kansas City franchise to become a political football, with its status debated in Congress.

Another factor in Finley's corner is the extreme difficulty he might have in trying to operate again in Kansas City. The fans may be alienated beyond recall after his attempted franchise shifts. Only 200 season tickets have been sold. No television or radio contracts are in force.

If the league tells Finley he must return to Kansas City and resume the deadlocked stadium lease negotiations, it will be doing it in the knowledge Finley and the other owners probably would lose money in Kansas City.

"I am tired of taking the blame," Finley said. "The line forms on the right. I will take on each American League club

Chamberlain Fires At Fast NBA Clip

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain fired at a 43-points-per-game clip in National Basketball Association play last week to trigger a San Francisco winning streak and increase his league-leading margin in the individual scoring race.

The Big Dipper scored 175 points as the Warriors won all four games during the week and hit for 50 in a key Western Division victory over first-place Los Angeles.

Chamberlain has 1,426 points for a 35.7 average at the NBA's annual All-Star break. He also leads in field goal accuracy with a .528 percentage and in total rebounds with 913.

owner individually, or take them all on collectively."

One league owner who declined to be identified said when the league received overtures from Dallas and Oakland, Finley volunteered to make the surveys and to pay for them, but the league insisted he pay only his share. League spokesman Joe McKenney said Cronin wasn't available for comment and won't be until the meeting Thursday.

Then last season he returned to action, but slowly. He would play a few minutes, then he rested a few.

"It's a precautionary measure to guarantee that I wouldn't hurt myself," Crawford said. "It wasn't that I was tired."

Because of the lengthy rests, he said, "I could never get in real good shape."

Crawford averaged 12 points a game for the first two-thirds of the season. He was given the go-ahead to play full-time from there on, and he finished the year with an average of 19 a game.

Crawford also sat out the 1961-62 season. He was sometimes on the Bonnies' bench, but always in street clothes.

Thomas Is Once Again Prepared

NEW YORK (AP) — John Thomas was a high jumper has been at the age of 21. But now he's back because of ballet lessons.

Ballet lessons? "Why not," said Coach Tom Duffy. "They tend to loosen up the thigh muscles, give greater spring and they relax an athlete. And when a man is relaxed, he's confident. When he's confident, he's ready."

And Thomas, once again, is ready. He demonstrated it beyond doubt last weekend with a 7-2 leap in Boston's Knights of Columbus Games, the opener of the Eastern indoor season.

He missed once each at 7 feet 7-1 and 7-2, clearing each height on his second try. He failed three times at 7-4, a quarter of an inch better than the indoor record held by Russian Valery Brumel, the old foe who gave Thomas the leaping dol-drum.

Thomas went on the decline after three straight losses to the Russian record holder and, for almost a year, dropped from the ranks of trackdom's elite.

"Those losses to Brumel affected him psychologically," Duffy said. "That just wears away at you."

Then, last year, Thomas called Duffy and asked for help in techniques and in rebuilding his shattered confidence.

"That's all I had to hear," Duffy said. "Just that he was sincere in starting over again and was intent in competing. The next night we were at Northeastern working out and we've been there three nights every week since."

At the same time, Duffy set up a whole new program for his 6-5 athlete, a program that included some new exercises and the ballet lessons.

Hockey League Observers Shake Heads

MONTREAL (AP) — National Hockey League observers are shaking their heads in agreement today. It looks as if Bobby Hull's annual second-half spurt has started.

The Chicago Black Hawks' bombshell fired five goals last week to run his season's total to 28 and his spurt started talk of a 40 or 50 goal season. And if he really gets hot 60 goals might even be within Hull's reach.

Two seasons ago, Hull scored 34 goals in the second half to complete a 50-goal year and tie the NHL record. His 28 goals are 10 better than he had at the same time during his record year.

Back Liberal Substitution Grid Rulings

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—The college football rules committee, which approved the most liberal substitution since the wide-open era of 1952, cleaned up some odds and ends before it left town.

It will be illegal for a quarterback to slam the ball down to ground it.

The rule requiring a substitute going into a game to remain for at least one down was eliminated.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association committee also took one more step Monday to simplify the new substitution rules, which will allow unlimited substitution when the clock is stopped and two subs at any time. A clause to prevent the faking of injuries was eliminated.

A subcommittee will study proposals to eliminate loss of down penalties and to force stopping of the clock when crowd noises drown out the signals.

Bowling Is Favored By Teenage Girls

NEW YORK (AP) — What's your guess on the favorite sport of teen-age American girls?

It's bowling. At least that's what it says in "Seventeen News," a newsletter issued by guess which magazine.

The magazine made a survey of the 11,065,000 teen-agers in the country and came up with the figure that 83.8 per cent of them bowl.

Anybody who would believe that would believe anything.

Actually, there were a lot of strange statements in the survey.

The typical American teenager who emerges must live where there is lots of ice and snow, beaches and horses.

For example, the survey said that 54.1 per cent ride horses. And 82.8 per cent ride bicycles. That is a pretty good trick since only 66.7 per cent own bikes.

It didn't say how many own horses.

Some 70.7 per cent ice skate and 54.1 per cent roller skate. One foot at a time, apparently, since only 53.5 per cent own ice skates. Only 22.8 per cent own roller skates.

Tennis gets 65.5 per cent—half with borrowed rackets—and the survey said 24.5 per cent play golf.

Almost half, 45.1 per cent, water ski, and 19.2 per cent ski in the snow.

But only 9.2 per cent own their own golf club, 8.5 their own skis.

Almost all of the girls own bathing suits, but it is not clear how many go near the water.

This stack of statistics was compiled by asking 1,418 teen-age girls what sports they like. Apparently their answers were multiplied by 7,816 to make 11 million. Statistics like that made Tom Dewey president, for a little while.

Confusion In College Cage Story

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Down in Davidson they love Davidson. And Davidson.

In fact, Davidson is one of the big reasons Davidson loves Davidson so.

Let's get this confusing, let us explain:

There is a certain town in North Carolina called Davidson. The good people of the community have a great affection for a certain college there, also called Davidson. One of the reasons they have that affection is a certain basketball player, also called Davidson, Don Davidson.

Another reason is that the Davidson Wildcats keep on winning. The nation's fifth-ranked college basketball team reeled off victory No. 13 in an unbeaten season Monday night, beating The Citadel 88-67.

Vanderbilt, No. 6, the only other ranked team in action, beat Mississippi 88-81 and ran its record to 13-1. In other major action, Dayton romped over Portland 82-60 and Oklahoma State took over undisputed possession of first place in the Big

East Coach Hopes West Keeps Line

BOSTON (AP)—East Coach Red Auerbach hopes the West keeps Walt Bellamy at center in the 14th National Basketball Association All-Star game Tuesday night. Wilt Chamberlain gives Bill Russell more trouble.

The classic, preceded by an old timers event, is expected to be played without a hitch despite a howling blizzard Monday night which stranded some of the athletes en route. A party of 18 was hung up in Chicago and eight more delayed in St. Louis.

West center Bellamy of Baltimore, like the Celtics' pivot Russell, was a unanimous choice for his team in the balloting conducted by sports writers.

The player getting the most votes for his position starts, so Bellamy gets the nod over San Francisco's Chamberlain, who will not answer the opening whistle for the first time in five appearances.

"Chamberlain gives Russell more trouble than Bellamy," Auerbach said concerning his rebounding-shot blocking star.

Russell and Cincinnati's great all-around Oscar Robertson help the East plans to slow down the West club whose five starters have an aggregate per-game scoring average of 121 points.

Celtic Tommy Heinsohn and Sam Jones plus Cincinnati rookie Jerry Lucas complete the East five. Wayne Embry, Hal Greer, Len Chappell, Chet Walker and Tom Gola complete the squad.

Los Angeles Coach Fred Schaus will counter with his own Elgin Baylor and Jerry West along with Guy Rodgers of the Warriors and the elder all-star, Bob Pettit of St. Louis. Behind them will be Chamberlain, Bailey Howell, Don Ohl, Terry Dischinger and Lenny Wilkens.

Houk Infield Valued At $105,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Houk's $5 million infield is worth $105,000.

The recession began the day Houk stepped up from manager to general manager of the New York Yankees.

And the market hit bottom Monday when Houk and the Yankees decided to mail out contracts to the American League baseball champions. The entire payroll figures to come to an estimated $600,000.

As for the four men Houk valued at $5 million in a word battle with Baltimore Manager Billy Hitchcock last year, here's the way the salaries go, from first to third:

1b—Joe Pepitone, $15,000.
2b—Bobby Richardson, $30,000.

ss—Tony Kubek, $35,000.

3b—Clete Boyer, $25,000.

The left side — Kubek and Boyer—stands about the same as last year. The gains were made on the right side. Pepitone gets a hefty raise from $8,000 after hitting .271 with 27 homers and a club high 89 runs batted in. Richardson, a .265 hitter and a team leader, gets about a $5,000 hike to $30,000.

The big hunk of the $800,000 payroll—one-eighth of it to be exact—goes to Mickey Mantle, who played in only 65 games last season because of a broken left foot and a damaged left knee cartilage that had to be operated on this winter.

Mantle had said he would have accepted a cut, but Houk said:

"You don't penalize a man because of injuries sustained in the line of duty. He means a great deal to this club and I expect him to bounce back and have a great year."

Eight with a 77-58 clouting of Kansas State.

Vanderbilt was never in serious trouble against Ole Miss., with the Rebels closing up against Vandy subs only late in the game. The Commodores had a 60-40 halftime lead.

Maryville 'Cats Shake MIAA Ranks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The down-trodden Maryville Bearcats shocked the MIAA basketball ranks by fighting back to a 94-90 overtime victory over the Springfield Bears at Maryville Monday night, with Ed Maxwell scoring 43 points.

It was Maryville's second triumph in 13 games and left the Bearcats 1-2 in the league. Springfield also is 1-2, and 7-5 overall.

Warrensburg defeated the Rolla Miners 92-83 in another overtime game at Rolla for a 2-1 mark in the MIAA. Rolla dropped to the cellar at 0-2.

In the MCAU, William Jewell beat Westminster 78-69 at Fulton for its third straight loop victory against no losses. Westminster went to last place at 0-5.

Trailing 46-38 at the half, Maryville seemed destined for its usual loss. But the Bearcats, hitting a hot 60 per cent from the field, caught up at 61-41 with 11 minutes left. Springfield held a four point lead again with 38 seconds to go, only to have Maxwell and Nick Neira sink field goals for Maryville and send the game into overtime at 81-81.

Neira made seven points and Maxwell six in the extra period. Danny Olden led Springfield with 29 points.

Warrensburg barely escaped defeat as Bud Orchard's field goal with three seconds left gave the Mules an 83-83 tie and caused the overtime. Rolla failed to score a single point in the extra period, while Warrensburg hit nine. Bud Vallino made 24 points for the Mules, Ralph Farber 21 for Rolla.

William Jewell out-shot Westminster 46 per cent to 40. Chuck Johnson and Homer Drew of William Jewell and Clayton Read of Westminster each made 19 points.

Tonight's schedule:
Culver Stockton at Grace-land, Park at Missouri Valley, Eastern Illinois at Washington.

AAU President Sees Solution Of Differences

NEW YORK (AP)—The president of the Amateur Athletic Union says he feels his group's differences with the National Collegiate Athletic Association can be solved at a high level.

Jay-Ehret Mahoney praised NCAA President Dr. Robert Ray of the State University of Iowa as a "man of understanding and principal. He's a fair man and has an athletic background."

"With Dr. Ray as president of the NCAA, there is a high hope of better understanding of our difficulties and for a possible solution to the matter."

"We feel that a settlement can be worked out if held at a high level between men who are interested in seeing that our athletes do not suffer through lack of understanding," Mahoney said Monday.

The two groups have been involved in a long-standing, complex power-struggle for control of this country's amateur athletics.

Their squabble threatened to wreck the U.S. Olympic team until a cease fire was forged by Gen. Douglas MacArthur. The truce is in effect until after the fall Olympics in Tokyo.

Gary Peters Has Contract, Curve Ball

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gary Peters has a fat contract, and a curve ball in the same condition.

A 26-year-old left-hander who nailed down American League Rookie of the Year honors last season by posting a 19-8 record, Peters received the fat contract Monday when he signed for the 1964 baseball season with the Chicago White Sox.

Peters signed for an estimated $20,000 from a distance of some 1,000 miles. While the announcement was made in Chicago, Peters was in Sarasota, Fla. working with pitching coach Ray Berres in an effort to reduce his portly curve ball.

"That's his only weakness—and a hip injury last season, too big of a curve," says Berres. "He leaves the ball hanging up there for home runs some times, or it breaks so much it hits the feet of a right-handed batter. It's so big that batters can anticipate it."

Nevertheless, Peters proved difficult to anticipate last year after stepping into the White Sox' starting rotation, reeling off 11 straight victories and eventually winning the league's earned run title with a 2.33 average.

While Peters became the first White Sox player to sign, third baseman Rich Rollins signed with Minnesota, catchers Ed Bailey and Gene Oliver with Milwaukee and pitchers Bob Garibaldi and Al Stanek with San Francisco.

Rollins, who had a broken jaw and a hip injury last season, signed for a contract in the neighborhood of $15,000-$20,000.

after winding up third in the American League batting race with a .307 average. He hit 16 homers and collected 61 runs batted in.

Bailey, obtained from San Francisco, and Oliver, acquired from St. Louis, are expected to supply the Braves with additional power. Bailey hit .263 last season with 21 homers and 68 RBI while Oliver batted .241 with 17 homers and 65 RBI.

The Sedalia Democrat-Capital NEWSPAPERBOY HONOR ROLL

for December, 1963

SEDALIA WINNERS

STEVE LONG

Emerging as top boy in his district for December is Steve Long. He is the 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Long, 1003 Sylvia, and is in the 7th grade at Heber Hunt School. Steve recently took over management of the newly formed route along a section of West Broadway including the Boeing Bachelor Quarters, and has already built the route up to where he takes top spot on the Honor Roll. Included in Steve's hobbies is horse back riding and although he doesn't have a horse now, Steve says he had one previously and looks forward to owning another. He has been managing his route for two months.

DON CRANK

Taking top spot among city boys in his district is Don Crank, 626 East 26th. Don began managing his route last June and has turned in a commendable record of management. His service has been exemplary and compliments have been forthcoming for his courtesy and dependability. He is the 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Crank and is in the 7th grade at Whittier School. He is a Star Scout in Troop 66 and he is active in all types of athletics. Last summer he was selected to the Sedalia Little League All-Star team. He is also interested in model cars and stock car competition and plays drums in the school band. He is a member of the First Christian Church.

Newspaperboys are honored on the basis of route performance, including salesmanship, records, and service to subscribers.

Not all boys are listed, since certain standards of performance are required for qualification.

In addition to earning money, newspaper route management offers an opportunity to win friends, and to develop characteristics important in later years. Any boy interested in managing a Democrat route is invited to fill out a route application.
